VOL. XXV BELLEFONTE, PA., THURSDAY MORNING. MARCH 1, 1894. NO 9

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, Feb.26, 1894.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

Democratic cuckoo and anti-cuckoo Senators have temporarily buried the hatchet and are engaged in a far more important fight, the tariff being the battle ground. There are ten democratic Senators who demand more home protection than the sub-committee is willing to give them. A caucus of democratic Senators was held this morning, but inasmuch as it was understood beforehand that no action binding upon the Senators was to be taken it has resulted in accomplishing nothing, and the fight is still on. The sub-committee tried to reach a compromise by taking coal, iron ore and sugar from the free list and putting a small duty upon each of them, but that appears not to have pleased either the free-traders or the home protectionists. The former are kicking because these articles were taken from the free list and the latter because the duty placed upon them is too low. It is impossible to say what effect this fight will have upon the fate of the bill. It may be that the home protectionists are, as the free-traders say they are, making a grand bluff in order to secure the highest possible duties for the articles they favor, and that they will in the end fall into line and support the bill. The retention of the income tax has made it certain that the three populists will support the bill and Senator Stewart, of Nev., may go with them. In that case the republicans will only have thirty seven sure votes against the bill, making it necessary for six democrats to vote with them to defeat it. If reports are true concerning the condition of Senator Vance's health he will not be able to return to Washington to vote for the bill, and as there is little probability of any republican pairing with him, that will mean one vote less for the democrats. There is still a possibility, however, that enough democrats may vote with the republicans to carry a motion to postpone consideration of the bill until next December.

Mr. Josiah Quincy, of Mass., ex-Headsman of the Department of State, will hardly go down to history either as a great statesman or as a shrewd political manager, but it cannot be denied that Josiah is well up in the art of pre servation. He has asked and been granted permission by the Senate committee on printing, which is investigating charges which allege that Quincy was guilty of crookedness in getting the contract for printing the Patent Office Gazette, awarded to parties with whom he holds peculiar business relations to with hold his testimony until all the evidence against him has been presented. Mr. Quincy frankly stated that his reasons for asking this favor was that he did not wish to give the other fellows any pointers. The committee will push the investigation as rapidly as possible.

Even the postal cards sold by the government are poorer and shabbier than under the republican administration. For proof of this assertion you have only to compare one of the democratic cards with one of those sold under the last administration You will find the democratic card much flimsier in quality and the printing vastly inferior in every respect. Verily the country is going through a period of craw-fish reform. But there is a day of reckoning ahead, and the verdict will be another period of obscurity thirty years long for the organized incompetency known as the democratic party.

It will be a long time before any one who heard Mr. Bland make that bitter speech, accusing those members of the House who had declined to vote to make a quorum so that his bill for the coinage of the seigniorage, which still has the House tied up, could be passed of teaching anarchy and with being no better than men who would throw dynamite bombs on the floor and endanger the lives of those present, will forget it, if they ever do. Without entering into the question of whether those who declined to vote were justified in so doing—ex-Speaker Reed insists that it is a question which concerns only the members and the constituents whom he represents,—it can be truthfully said that a man who would make such a speech as Mr. Bland made is utterly unfit to been trusted with the management of any bill on the floor of the house. He lost his head, and no man who loses his head is fitted to be a leader of other men. By none were his intemperate words more severely condemned than by some of the silver men whose leader circumstances had made him. His standing as a man of judgment has never been high in the House, but he will in the future have no standing at all. Mr. Bland insists that his bill will be kept before the House until it is voted upon, but it will surprise no one to see it side-tracked at any time.

PERMANENT CERTIFICATES.

The examination of teachers for permanent certificates in Centre county will be held in the stone school building, Bellefonte, on Good Friday, the 23rd of March. All those who desire to be examined are requested to send in their applications as soon as possible.

JUDGE FURST.

An Important Letter that Explains Itself.

Huntington, Pa., Feb'y. 16, 1894.

To Hon. A. O. Furst.

Sir:—The undersigned members of the bar of Huntingdon county, having in view the able and impartial manner in which you have performed the responsible and arduous duties of president Judge of this district, composed of Huntingdon and Centre counties for the past nine years, and that your term of office will expire with the present year, deem it of the greatest importance to the citizens in general, as well as to the members of the bar, that a jurist of your recognized qualifications and large experience should continue to preside over the several courts of this county. They therefore respectfully request you to be a candidate for re-election as president judge of this district, and hereby pledge you in such candidacy, their hearty support.

William P. Orbison, William Dorris, Samuel T. Brown, R. K. Foster, H. H. Waite, W. S. Taylor, James S. Woods, P. M. Zytle, John W. Mattern, Charles G. Brown, Horace B. Dunn, J. M Steese John D. Dorris, L. S. Geissinger, R. A. Orbison, H. C. Madden, W. H. Woods, K. A. Lovell, T. W. Myton, J. F. Schock, W. McK. Williamson.

We the undersigned heartily approving of the foregoing letter unite with the members of the bar in requesting that you become a candidate for re election as president judge of this district.

Thomas M. Oaks, Sheriff; W. J. Geissinger, associate judge; Samuel A. Steel prothonotary; John Brewster, ex-prothy; M. W. Isenberg, Register and Recorder; George M. Green, county treasurer; Jas. H Garner, commissioner; Jas. A. Wilson, commissioner.

[Judge Furst's answer to the above letter can be found on the 7th page (inside) of to-day's paper.—Ed.]

GOOD ROADS.

One by one the States are becoming interested in the goodroads movement, exclaims the New York Post. The agitation is at white heat in Missouri just now, and nowhere are roads fitted for traveling more needed. In the remote country districts particularly they are a disgrace to the age. The Kansas City Times, to which much of the credit of arousing the people on this question is due, says truly: "Next to railroads, substantial and lasting public highways are worth more to a country, including both the farmers and the townsman, than any other single investment that could be made." A resident of Howard county, Mo., who realizes the needs of this section makes the following offer; "I will give $1 per acre on every acre of land I own towards the building of a gravel road from Rocheport to Jackmah's Mill. My farm consists of 450 acres; hence I will take stock in said road to the amount of $450. I will also give the same amount for a gravel road from Locheporte to Ashland church, or from the church to Fayette. If we could get the farmers once interested, in such an enterprise, it would be but a few years until we would have the best roads in the west. The building of these roads can be accomplished with less cost in the long run than the present system of road working is now costing the farmer. It must also be remembered that each individual who pays in as much as $100 becomes a stockholder in the road. In fact, stock can be issued at $100 a share and I will venture the assertion that this money will return a larger dividend than in any other way invested."

A SELF DENIAL WEEK.

Reading, Feb. 27.—At to-day's session of the anti-Bowman Evangelical conference, it was decided to set apart a week for self denial in June, the funds so saved to be devoted to the missionary society. It is believed that thousands of dollars can be saved in this manner.

Resolutions were passed concerning the desire of the Woman's Missionary Society Christian League of Christian Endeavor and Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor to undertake direct missionary work.

Rev. L. Deise, of the Central Pennsylvania Evangelical conference, was received as an advisory member.

Rev. Metzgar, Treasurer of the Orphans Home, presented a report showing $123.-62 in the treasury.

The resolution for self denial week was offered by Bishop Dubs, who suggested that members abstain from all luxuries.

—Thus far there have been 89 delegates elected for the Republican State Convention and every one of the lot is either instructed for pledged to General Hastings.

A CLOSE CALL.

Huntingdon's Assistant Chief of Police Narrowly Escapes Being a Murderer.

Huntingdon, Pa., February 25.—That Assistant Chief of Police David R. Keith, colored, is not a murderer to-night is owing only to his inaccurate aim, for yesterday he stood within a few feet of Cyrus Beers, also colored, and with a revolver in each hand fired two shots at the latter, but missed his target each time. He is in jail, at any rate, to await the action of the next quarter sessions court.

Bad blood has existed between the two for a long time, and the policeman's hatred of Beers was intensified a few days ago when the latter had him brought before a magistrate to answer to the charge of adultery with the prosecutor's wife. The hearing resulted in the officer's discharge on the grounds of insufficient evidence, but the humiliation so preyed upon his mind that he has a number of times since then threatened the life of Beers and then "go to Japan." Instead, however, he went to jail.

The shooting occurred on the principal thoroughfare of the town, and created quite a sensation. Keith had been warned only a few moments before about carrying the revolvers for the purpose he intended them, for he was known to have been drinking considerable, but he seemed determined to carry out his plans. Approaching Beers and with something like "I've had a grudge at you for seventeen years and am now going to settle," the officer snapped the pistols. Beers dropped a trifle and then instantly clinching his adversary about the lower extremeties, threw him to the ground. Several of the crowd gathered and disarmed Keith.

Even at the subsequent hearing the officer is credited with having boldly and boisterously declared that he would kill Beers in the court room before the eyes of Judge Furst. He is a married man and has one son.

TWO BURNED TO DEATH.

Vineland, N. J., February 25.—At 2.45 this morning what is known as the Robinson memorial cottage at the New Jersey Training school for feeble minded, was discovered to be on fire, and notwithstanding the strenuous efforts of the fire department, it was totally destroyed. J. H. Sage, the engineer, and his wife were burned to death, but the other inmates, sixteen in number, were rescued in their night clothes. The weather was bitter cold and several were badly frozen. Mr. Sage and wife appeared at one of the upstairs windows and could have been saved, but for some unaccountable reason turned back and were not seen alive again. Their charred corpses were found at the foot of the stairs this afternoon.

Gus Shear, a teamster at the training school, was the hero of the fire. No ladder long enough could be found to reach the second story windows, but by placing it on his shoulders it reached the window sill and six women came down that way.

The cottage cost $15,000 and was insured for $8,000. It was erected by a wealthy woman of Providence, R. I., in memory of her husband. The capacity of the building was for seventy-five persons and had they all been in the building the loss of life would have been greater. The Sages who were burned to death came from Philadelphia a few weeks ago and it is impossible at present to find where their relatives live in that city.

MR. WILSON'S ILLNESS.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25.—The condition of Hon. William I. Wilson, chairman of the committee on ways and means, is very grave, according to a dispatch received by Secretary Gresham yesterday from United States Consul General Crittenden, in the City of Mexico. The text of the dispatch follows:

"Mr. Wilson has developed a marked typhoid fever. His general condition is grave, though the fever, as yet, is of a mild type. Dr. Mallet Prevost, whom I sent from here to Aquas Calientes (Hot Springs), to see him, has had him removed to Guadalajara, which he considers the location which will give him the best sanitary surroundings possible in Mexico. To bring him to this city would be most dangerous. He shall have the best attention."

A copy of the dispatch was sent to the president.

FOR ECONOMY.

Pittsburg, February 25.—Last night the board of directors of the Riverside school, in the West End, determined upon a new departure in their management of the public school. Five Sisters of Mercy, or Catholic nuns, now teaching in the St. James parochial school, will be transferred to the public and the parish school closed. The sisters have passed an examination and received certificates from the central board of education. The Bible will not be read in the school and no sectarianism will be tolerated. The combination of the two schools was effected for purposes of economy.

HERE'S A GOOD EXAMPLE.

Ex-Governor Beaver was on Tuesday elected to represent the people of his ward as a member of the Bellefonte common council. Some people may be surprised that a gentleman who has been governor of Pennsylvania would consent to be a common councilman, but it is too bad that more of the class of men of whom General Beaver is one will not consent to represent their people In the management of the local government of the state and county. The best men are not too good to accept such positions and it is a great pity that more of the best people are not found at the head of the government of the towns and cities in which they live. Councilmen certainly ought to be not only the most sensible men and the best business men but the most respectable men of a community and when the people of any section foolishly start to send men to councils without a single one of such qualifications they not only do themselves an injustice but they make it impossible to get honest or respectable men to serve from any part of the community. It would be a pleasure for the men in any town or city who are competent to transact the public business to do it if they have the assistance of other men like themselves, but when the majority of the people send their best men to councils and a locality or two pushes in among them one or two irresponsible fellows whose lives have been failures or who have outlived their usefulness it is pretty sure to follow that the best material will soon retire to private life disgusted and only the equals of the failures will be found willing to take their places.

Ex-Governor Beaver set a good example when he became a common councilman. Our best men should be our councilmen and when we have none but the best men in councils we will be a better governed and a more contented people.—Williamsport Republican.

BRITISH WAR IN AFRICA.

London, Feb. 27.—A dispatch from Rear Admiral Bedford, commanding the British West African fleet at Bathurst, Gambia, says that a large force of natives under Chief Fodisilah have invaded British Combo. The Legislature Council of the Colony immediately met to devise means of protecting themselves and driving away the invaders. The council decided to organize patrol parties, which are to be led by members of the council.

There was two hours fighting between the natives and a detachment of the West India regiment on Sunday. The fighting was mostly under cover of the bushes, in which style of warfare the British were at a disadvantage. The engagement terminated with the defeat and rout of the natives, who lost a number of killed and only three were wounded.

THE COUGHLIN CASE.

Chicago, Feb. 27.—No immediate action will be taken as to the charges of attempted bribery of the Coughlin jury. An investigation is in progress. When the inquiry is finished the evidence will be laid before Judge Tuthill. Then he will decide what he thinks best to do. Meanwhile no bench warrants will be issued for the arrest of Bailiff Newland, Mme. Desmond and Mrs. Blaisdell.

Judge Wing in his speech to-day in the Coughlin trial made a bitter attack on Mrs. Foy. Sitting within the enclosure next old Dennis Coughlin, father of the prisoner, was the woman's husband, Andrew Foy. He seemed to enjoy the caustic comments of which his wife was the victim. Foy is a daily attendant to the trial.

IN MEMORY OF CHILDS.

New York, February 25—Services in memory of George W. Childs will be held ot 2 p. m. on Sunday, March 11, under the auspices of Typographical union No. 6, in the Fifth Avenue theatre. Frank Damrosch, leader of the People's singing classes, has volunteered to furnish and conduct a chorus of from 600 to 700 singers gratuitously, It was decided that a chorus of 200 voices should be provided.

President John W Keller, of the New York Press club, has accepted an invitation to deliver an address on the relation of Mr Childs to the writers of the press and Congressman Amos J Cummings is expected to deliver a eulogy.

—Dominick Judge was in Tyrone on Saturday and the Altoona Times corresdent says: D. F. Judge, of Bellefonte, on Saturday purchased at public sale the property owned by his brother, James Judge, of Carson City, Nevada. The property, which is situated on the west side of Pennsylvania avenue, consists of a half lot of ground, upon which is erected a two story frame dwelling. The property was purchased for $1,235.

DEMOCRATIC CONGRESSMAN PARALYZED OVER THE BIG MAJORITY FOR GROW.

The Democrats in both branches of Congress were unusually bad tempered last week. The cause was easily discovered in the reports from the Pennsylvania election.

Mr. Grow's tremendous majority was a shock to the wreckers of American industries. They had no anticipation of such an overwhelming revolt against the proposed tariff legislation. While some of them tried to explain the result by attributing it to hard times, caused by other conditions than a threatened tariff reduction, the almost universal verdict of the democrats was that the people of Pennsylvania do not want the protective system destroyed.

The crankiness of Mr. Bland, who is trying to get a quorum of Democrats to pass his seignorage bill, was increased when he read of Mr. Grow's 200,000 majority. He refused to adjourn over for legal holiday on Washington's birthday and in his rasping, exasperating manner proceeded to lecture the Democrats who are making the party a laughing stock in the country as an aggregation of incompetents.

In the Senate Pennsylvania's magnificent indorsement of protection and crushing denouncement of free trade acted on Senator Vorhees like a red rag on a mad bull. Vest got testy too and Mills with a 200,000 majority in Pennsylvania ringing in his ears, screamed himself hoarse over the robber manufacturers and the burdens they are putting on the people.

Senator Chandler struck at the root of the display of temper by stating that it was undoubtedly caused by this voice from Pennsylvania.

A glance at the faces of the Republicans as they assembled in both houses was sufficient to show that some very pleasant news had been received. The Pennsylvania Republicans were congratulated by their colleagues on that side of the house. Representatives Bingham, Harmer, Adams, Reyburn, Wagner, Mahone, McDowell and others who had gone home to vote were surrounded by groups of Representatives anxious to hear over and over again the story of Pennsylvania's protest against the Wilson bill, the Administration's pension policy, its Hawaiian policy and its incompetency generally.

Ex-Speaker Reed's open countenance was broader and more good humored than ever. When asked what he thought of Pennsylvania's landslide he said: "This is a good beginning. Just wait until we get after these fellows next November. There will be no seperate funerals, we will bury them in one common ditch and cover them with a slab on which shall be written a single word—'Unknown.'"

Mr. Reed speaks from a knowledge of what the sentiments all over the country is.

Mr. Burrows sees in the Pennsylvania election the forerunner of a magnificent victory next Fall to be followed by a complete triumph of the Republican party in 1896.

The Pennsylvania Republicans were especially gratified. General Bingham stated that the orders of the Administration had been to put up a candidate against Mr Grow in order to test the question of the tariff and boasts were made that the platform on which candidate Hancock stood was the Administration platform. The result must be convincing if not pleasing to Mr. Cleveland.

PESSIMISM ON TREE CULTURE.

Mr. Joseph Meehan, in his address before the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society on city trees, takes a glowing view of the subject. "There are really no shade trees in our city worthy of the name," he says. A little further on, after declaring that lack of success in growing shade trees along city streets is due to lack of intelligent understanding of the requirement of trees, he adds: "It will never, perhaps, be much better than it is today." In other words, Mr. Meehan fears that Philadelphians are incapable of learning and adopting any better plan than the present haphazard method of planting trees to be destroyed by horses, caterpillars and the peripatetic tree butchers.

It will occur to many, however, that Mr Meehan is too pessimistic. He proposes a plan which if adopted, and which certainly stands a good chance of adoption in the near future, would result in furnishing good shade trees along some of the wider streets and avenues at least. His plan is that of placing the planting and care of all city shade trees in the control of the city under the supervision of a skilled forester. This has been done with notable success in other cities and can be done here if the subject is kept before the public in the proper light.

The most serious difficulty at present is that the private owners plant what trees they like and the traveling tree butchers victimize the tree owners. When tree planting is done under the direction of a skilled arboriculturist, which will include the section, planting and care of the trees, there is no reason why as good trees may not be grown along the wide streets avenues of Philadelphia as anywhere. Let Mr. Meehan cultivate his courage a little and keep up his agitation for a sensible method of planting and pruning shade trees and the next generation will witness a marked improvement in this respect, even in slow, old-fashioned Philadelphia.

TWO FROM THE "PRESS."

Surveyor Meek's Bellefonte newspaper is so badly dazed by the result of the late election that it talks about Jackson having been the Democratic candidate for State Treasurer last Fall, and Osburn the Republican candidate. After getting in that condition it was perfectly easy for Surveyor Meek's paper to declare that there is nothing significant in the fact that Centre County gave a Republican majority, although time out of mind it has been a Democratic county. Surveyor Meek is quiet and unobtrusive, but he will joke.

* * *

General Beaver shows his appreciation of the duty of good citizenship by accepting election as a member of the Borough Council of Bellefonte. The fact that he has served a term in the high office of Governor in no way disqualifies him for service in the Council, nor does his new election detract in the least from the dignity of his occupancy of the higher position. After the late William Bigler, of Clearfield County, had been Governor of the State and United States Senator he became a school director in his town and attended to the business of the office with enthusiasm. It would be much better if the people in every community would make more general use than they do of their broader-minded and more experienced citizens.

AN ABSURD SCHEME.

The Knights of Labor have undertaken the greatest job of their lives, if it be true, as stated in Memphis, where a meeting on the subject was held Saturday night, that they are going to induce the Federal government to make appropriations for the colonization of the negroes in Africa. In the first place the negroes would not consent to go, and there is no power to compel them to, and if they should consent to the colonization it would cost such an enormous sum, whether carried out slowly or not, that no member of Congress would hear to it for a moment. The report is that General Master Workman Soverign is in favor of the project and that it will be the chief theme of his lecturing tour in the South. If that is true it is bad for both him and the Order; bad for him in that it will lead many to impugn his judgment, and for the Order in that it will be regarded as given over to the absurd and impossible. Why cannot the negro be let alone? No wonder he does not make the progress which some think he ought to make. The white man would not make much either under such circumstances. The negro is in the United States to stay and the sooner that fact is recognized as unalterable and he is given a chance accordingly, the better for both him and the white man.

NEW ELECTRIC ROAD.

It is announced that a new electric railway, to traverse an important section of Blair and Bedford counties, will be an accomplished matter in the near future. Who the projectors of this proposed enterprise are cannot be stated at present, but a charter has already been granted and $175,000 in stock has been subscribed, which evidently means business. The road is to be run from Roaring Spring, Blair county, to Hopewell, Bedford county, by way of Woodbury and Loysburg.

The right of way for this road has been secured and the proposed route will be by the turnpike. The length of the line will be between fifteen and twenty miles and it will provide traveling facilities in a section which is rather backward in that respect at present. Particularly will it be advantageous in affording a more direct route to Bedford county than can be had by the Huntingdon and Broad Top road, which is a very roundabout way from this part of the country.

MRS. CLEVELAND BUSY.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Washington society is delighted that the absence of President Cleveland enables Mrs. Cleveland to appear at entertainments outside of the executive mansion. She was the guest of Mrs. Harriet Lane Johnson at an amateur performance last night, when the actors, in costume, were presented to her, in her hostesses box.

This afternoon she attended an entertainment for the benefit of a free kindergarten at the residence of Mrs. Hearst, the widow of the California Senator, and she expects to look in upon a "midway plaisance concert, for a charitable purpose to-morrow evening.

AT QUARANTINE.

Admiral Stanton and the Crew of the Kearsarge Arrived There Yesterday.

QUARANTINE, N. Y., February 21.—Rear Admiral Stanton and nineteen officers and 182 men of the ill-fated Kearsarge arrived at Quarantine this morning shortly after 10 o'clock, on the Colon steamer City of Para, after a seven days' passage from Colon. Admiral Stanton readily talked of the disaster, although carefully avoiding any statements that might incriminate anybody or give a reason for the accident. These, said he, were matters for the attention of the investigating board. After the frigate struck it was found that there was very little under her forward, and fearing she might slip off into deeper water and sink, a life raft, or catamaran, was launched as soon as it was light enough to see and a kedge anchore carried ashore and a hawser made fast to hold the ship upon the reef. This hawser was drove through a pulley and a systematic effort was at once made to land all hands in a boat with a line fast to the block which traveled on the hawser. A strong northeast trade wind was blowing steadily at the time. The boat could carry six men at a time and consequently it took considerable time to land all hands. Provisions, water casks and canvas to build temporary shelter were brought on shore and preparations made to erect sleeping quarters. Under the direction of the officers men were told off to different kinds of work. Seamen and marines contributed impromptu tents, while others built fires and made ready for the cooks. A well was also dug and a supply of fresh water provided. There was but one accident of a fatal nature. Fireman Andrew Robbins, while wading around in the shallow water, fell into a deep hole and was drowned, although every effort was made to save him. A lieutenant and seven men were dispatched to Old Providence for aid in a life boat, and the remainder of the crew awaited succor in comparative comfort. On the 10th inst, just ten days after the accident, the City of Para hove in sight and the work of taking off the wrecked men was at once begun. This was safely accomplished without incident and a start was at once made for Colon. But few of the effects of either officers or men were saved. When last seen the famous old frigate was hove down on one side, with several large holes in her bottom.

A BAD BEGINNING FOR CRISPI.

The Italian Chamber of Deputies met yesterday for the first time since December, when, after the failure of two Premiers to form a cabinet, Crispi was summoned to try his hand at it. The adjournment was to give him and his colleagues time to look over the situation and discover where the much-needed financial reform could be made best. There are many reforms needed beside the financial, but that is imperative, as the country is on the verge of bankruptcy, and the public faith in the moneyed institutions destroyed by the bank scandals which ruined the previous Ministry. At the opening the Premier suggested that a day be fixed for the discussion of the recent seditious outbreaks, whereupon there was another outbreak then and there. The Radicals wanted that subject debated at once. The uproar was so fierce and uncontrolled that there was nothing to do but adjourn the Chamber again. This is an unpromising beginning for Crispi, but he is a resolute man and will reduce the Radicals to order if any one can, and if any one can, he will reduce the chaotic nation to order. If he should fail, the fears so often expressed by Italians lately would be justified.

TRAINS SNOW BOUND.

RENO, NEV., Feb 21.—It is snowing here and the mountains look black as a thunder cloud, Railroad officials' calculations to get the road open this evening are likely to be upset by the elements. Between 300 and 400 passengers are delayed here. Last evening a hundred or more made demand on Agent Field to furnish them food while the blockade lasted. The demand was not complied with, although the company is furnishing all destitute passengers with meal tickets. It is expected emphatic demands will be made to-morrow, unless the road opens.

Two trains a day are coming from the East and are rapidly filling up the town with passenger trains. All freight trains are held at Wadsworth. The stock corrals are full of delayed sheep and cattle en route to the San Francisco market.

In Denver the thermometer fell to 7° below zero this morning, and snow has been falling all day. The storm is reported to extend from the Missouri river to the western side of the range from Cheyenne to New Mexico. Trains are hours late, and snow ploughs have been sent out to open the mountain passes if possible.

THE EASTERN LEAGUE.

NEW YORK, February 21.—The second day's session of the Eastern Base Ball league opened to-day at 11.30. Three schedules were presented by President Powers The schedule most likely to be adopted is one which provides for the eastern teams opening in the west. The season will open May 1 and close September 15. It provides that fifty-six games be played at home and fifty-six abroad.

MANY MINERS MEET.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., February 21.—A convention of the coal miners of Kentucky and Tennessee was held in this city yesterday. There were represented sixty mines which have an annual output of 5,000,000 bushels, and employ 10,000 hands, upon whom 4,000 families depend for support. The convention passed resolutions asking that coal be not placed upon the free list and praying the Tennessee and Kentucky senators to use their influence against the passage of the free coal and iron clauses of the Wilson bill.

DYNAMITERS AT LANCASTER.

LANCASTER, Pa., Feb. 21.—An attempt was made last night to blow up the Cherry street bridge over the Pennsylvania Railroad. The instrument used was a bomb made of gas pipe, sections of which were found embedded in the superstructure of the bridge 25 feet from the point of the explosion. The bridge is not badly damaged, although the concussion smashed windows and broke open doors of neighboring houses and tore down telephone and electric light wires. Many people in the vicinity at first thought it was an earthquake and rushed from their homes panic stricken, but, on recollecting that it was election night, concluded that someone had fired off a cannon in celebration of the Republican victory.

There is great excitement over the affair, as it is only a month since a huge dynamite bomb was found under the foundation of a big four story brick building adjoining the police station. The fuse had been lighted, but was defective and failed to explode the bomb. The bridge is a wooden structure, and it is believed the intention of the miscreant was to wreck the Southwestern express, which was due a few minutes after the explosion occurred, and which arrived in Pittsburg at 8.30 a. m. There is no clew to the perpetrator.

TRAIN WRECKERS.

FINDLAY, O., Feb.—Three desperate attempts to wreck trains were made at the little town of McComb, ten miles north west of here, last night. The first attempt was made on the fast eastbound train on the Nickle Plate. A pile of ties was placed on the track half a mile west of town. The obstruction was discovered by a little 10 year old girl, who bravely flagged the passenger train in time to prevent its destruction.

Later a switch east of the town was found spiked open and filled with iron, and this morning the early northbound train from this city on the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton found its switch near McComb filled up with scrap iron, enough to derail a train if not discovered.

The object was evidently plunder. Officers are on the trail, and expect to locate the villains.

DEAD MAIL MATTER.

The gradual increase in the amount of "dead" mail matter reaching the Dead Letter Office is shown in a statement prepared at the postoffice department. It shows that the total number of pieces of mail matter received at the office during last month was 596,400. while in the corresponding month last year the number was 524,200.

To check this increase the Department is sending the following notice to all post masters, with an order to post it conspicuously and to call the attention of all patrons to it:

"Don't mail your letter or package without having your own address written or printed upon the upper left hand corner. This will insure its prompt return to you if not delievered, and will prevent its being sent to and opened at the Dead Letter office.

ITS CLOSING ASSEMBLY.

The senior class of Pennsylvania State College are now arranging for its closing assembly which will take place on Friday evening, April 20th. It will be gotten up in an elaborate style, and will be one of the most brilliant society events that has taken place at this famous institution for a long time. A large number of invitations will be sent out and Stopper and Fisk's orchestra will furnish the music. The class of '94 have given some magnificent assemblies which glowed with splendor and beauty and this will excel all others. The committee is composed of Rodger Bowman as chairman, W. A. Banks, John B. Hench, W. H. Waite, Boyd A. Musser, and W. H. Rebhun.

ALL HOPE IS ABANDONED.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., February 21.—Everything seemed very quiet at the Gaylord mine to-day and up to this evening their is nothing new to report. There is one fact, that the hope of finding the men alive is abandoned, and that there are eleven widows and some forty orphans left to suffer. An attempt was to be made today to send a number of men into the mine for the purpose of timbering the top of a mass of loose rock and coal, but Mine Inspector Williams would not permit it to be done. The work of removing the debris goes on in the usual slow manner, and it will be many days before the thirteen unfortunate men are found.

CLAIMS IT WAS A MISTRIAL.

NEW YORK, February 22.—An alleged foundation has at last been found for the rumor circulated in the interests of John Y. McCane, to the effect that his conviction was obtained on a mistrial owing to former insanity on the part of one of the jurors. It is now learned that the defense asserts that Theodore A. Hertel, a pickle dealer of Flushing avenue, Brooklyn, during an operation was placed under the influence of anaesthetics and did not at once recover. They claim that this was due to a weak mind.

Another juror, who was in the employ of a variety theatre, was discharged immediately after rendering the verdict.

THAT GROWING MAJORITY.

Galusha Will Have Over 175,000 Plurality in the State.

PHILADELPHIA, February 21,—Complete returns of the sixty-seven counties in the state show a plurality of 175,000 for Grow, republican, for congressman-at-large. This is the largest plurality ever given by the state for any candidate. The republicans made almost a clean sweep of the counties, only twelve of the sixty seven counties giving a plurality for Hancock, democrat. In 1892 twenty-eight counties gave pluralities for the democratic candidate for congressman-at-large. Among the counties which flopped over to the republican column is Lycoming, which had never before given a republican majority on a state ticket. The anthracite coal counties —Schuylkill and Luzerne—are among those that flopped. Those that remain in the democratic column all show reduced pluralities. Berks county, whose majority usually ranges from 7,300 to 10,000, gives Hancock only 2,343 plurality, and York county, which could always be relied upon for a majority of 3,000 to 4,000 for the democratic candidate, gives Hancock a plurality of less than 300. The eleven counties with give pluralities for Hancock are Berks, Clarion, Columbia, Cumberland, Lehigh Monroe, Montour Northampton Pipe, Sullivan and York. Philadelphia county gives Grow a plurality of 58,940, and Allegheny county looms up with nearly 30,000. Nearly every county in the state shows republican gains, as compared with the vote of 1892, with the single exception of the strong republican county of Lancaster, with gives Grow 9,322 plurality, 338 less than was given for General Lilly in 1892.

POLES CAUSE TROUBLE.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., February 21.—A funeral procession from Alden, a small mining village, arrived at the Polish Catholic church at Nanticoke to-day, and the priest refused to open the church door or perform services over the dead. This caused great excitement for a time. The priest gave as his reason that the body was accompanied by a secret society that was not Catholic in its character.

The Polanders became enraged and broke several windows in the convent and parsonage across the street from the church. The police were soon on the spot and the mob was driven away. The priest fearing serious trouble, finally concluded to act and the funeral party entered the church where the services were conducted in rather short order.

THE POPE AND FATHER KNEIPP.

ROME, February 21.—The pope held a consultation yesterday with Father Kneipp the Bavarian priest who originated a well known water cure and came to Rome upon his holiness' invitation. He explained to the priest the state of his health generally and spoke particularly of the internal troubles from which he has suffered. Father Kneipp assured his holiness that his ailments were not serious and predicted for him several years more of life. He advised the holy father to try cold water bathing. This morning, by order of the pope, Father Kneipp made his first trial of the treatment.

FIVE ANARCHISTS ARRESTED.

PARIS, February 21.—Five anarchists were arrested to-day on suspicion of having caused an explosion in Avenue Saint Quen. The explosion was attributed to the discharge of a bomb, but it was subsequently learned that it was caused by an ignition of gas. The police, however, found eleven sham bombs on the premises and these were taken to headquarters for examination with a view to ascertaining whether they were really intended to be filled with explosive material. The discovery of the so called bombs has greatly agitated the residents of the neighborhood.

A FEW MODEST GIRLS.

A Lock Haven girl is so modest that she will not go to bed while the Christian Observer is in the same room.

A Tyrone seminary girl declines to walk up a steep hill for fear her breath will come in short pants.

A Philipsburg woman will not bathe in the same room with potatoes until she has plucked out their eyes.

A Clearfield maiden refused to wear a chatelaine watch attached to her person because the watch has hands.

A Snow Shoe girl locks herself in her room every time she hears the brass band approaching. She vows she will never look at any drum major who parades in his bear skin.

AT THE GAYLORD MINE.

WILKESBARRE, Feb. 23.—The searchers continue to work hard at the Gaylord mine, but they are meeting with little headway. They have reached what is know as Cannahan's gangway, but to reach where the unfortunate men are supposed to be buried they will have to go over 700 feet of the plane, and to timber this as they go is a dangerous task. A number of men, headed by Ike Carroll, went down into the No. 5 shaft and from this place they entered into the Gaylord on the No. 2 plane. They report the mine to be in a very bad condition, and it is their belief that the men will not be found in weeks.

—The "Engaged" comedy company, which gave such a royal good entertainment in Tyrone recently, is booked to appear in this place on Tuesday evening, March 6th. This will be a rare treat for the amusement loving public of Bellefonte.

TOBACCO HABIT EASILY CURED.

A FEW Testimonials from persons who have been cured by the use of Hill's Tablets.

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:
DEAR SIR:—I have been using your cure for tobacco habit, and found it would do what you claim for it. I used ten cents worth of the strongest chewing tobacco a day, and from one to five cigars; or I would smoke from ten to forty pipes of tobacco. Have chewed and smoked for twenty-five years, and two packages of your Tablets cured me so I have no desire for it.
B. M. JAYLORD, Leslie, Mich.

DOBBS FERRY, N. Y.
THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:—GENTLEMEN:—Some time ago I sent for $1.00 worth of your Tablets for Tobacco Habit. I received them all right and, although I was both a heavy smoker and chewer, they did the work in less than three days. I am cured.
Truly yours, MATHEW JOHNSON, P. O. Box 45.

PITTSBURGH, PA.
THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:—GENTLEMEN:—It gives me pleasure to speak a word of praise for your Tablets. My son was strongly addicted to the use of liquor, and through a friend, I was led to try your Tablets. He was a heavy and constant drinker, but after using your Tablets but three days he quit drinking, and will not touch liquor of any kind. I have waited four month before writing you, in order to know the cure was permanent. Yours truly,
MRS. HELEN MORRISON.

CINCINNATI, OHIO.
THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:—GENTLEMEN:—Your Tablets have performed a miracle in my case. I have used morphine, hypodermically, for seven years, and have been cured by the use of two packages of your Tablets, and without any effort on my part. W. L. LOTHOAY.

—The ice cutters are now getting in their work.

—Has anyone in Bellefonte seen "Gibson?" is the question now frequently asked.

—"True Irish Hearts" will be the attraction in Garman's opera house Thursday evening, March 1st.

—And now Tyrone wants to banish the cows from its streets. A good move, but one harder to execute than to plan.

—The "Kirmess," as rendered in Altoona on Wednesday evening, proved a most remarkable success in every way.

—Two prisoners dug their way through the wall of the Clinton county jail in Lock Haven Tuesday evening and made their escape.

—The official returns of Centre county are all in but not yet counted. It is certain, however, that Grow's majority will be 504.

—With Joshua Folk's drum corps all day on Thursday and the Bellefonte band Thursday evening, the people of Bellefonte will soon begin to think that "there is music in the air."

—On Wednesday evening a young girl on Curtin street almost fainted from fright by being chased by an Italian, she alleges. A gentleman passing at the time saw her safely to her destination.

—The officials of the Bellefonte Central Railroad company are looking towards the extension of their line to Pine Grove Mills. This would be a bonanza for the residents up in that section of the county.

—August Crap, a one legged Findlander was arrested on Thursday for discharging deadly weapons. Carp fired to frighten some boys who were teasing him. He will now have to stand trial before the Court.

—Mr. Harvy Royer has been appointed carrier to convey the United States mail from the postoffice at Zion to the station of the Central railroad, a distance of one half a mile. There were five applicants for the place.

—We are pleased to record that Mrs. Edward Barry, whose husband died about a year ago, has been granted a pension of $16 per month—$8 for herself and $8 for her children. She will also receive about $225 back pay.

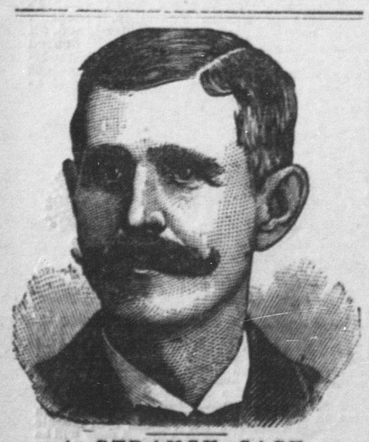
—Mr. Henry Resides has just moved to Fillmore, this county, and in the future will occupy and cultivate the Resides farm at that place. Mr. Resides is an experienced tiller of the soil and will, no doubt, prove his ability in that direction.

—Miss Martha Findley arrived at Mill Hall Thursday from Vassar, Mich., and was married to C. A. Kaufman. She had never before met him. The wedding resulted from a matrimonial advertisement. The groom is aged 65 and the bride 26.

—We would mildly suggest, for the good of the order, the propriety of the democratic party unloading President Cleveland and the solid south. By doing so it might prevent that party from having to tarry another 30 years in the wilderness where there is no manna.

—The Epworth League, of Gray's church in Half Moon, are going to give their pastor, Rev. A. P. Wharton, a "farewell" reception this evening at the M. E. parsonage in Stormstown. Mr. Wharton has been on the circuit for five years and is universally liked and admired.

—A stabbing affray occurred on Thomas street this morning in which one boy stabbed another in the arm, cutting quite a gash. It is said the stroke was made for the breast and it is a fortunate circumstances that it was received on the arm, else there might have been a youthful homicide case in our next court.



A STRANGE CASE.

How an Enemy was Foiled.

The following graphic statement will be read with intense interest: "I cannot describe the numb, creepy sensation that existed in my arms, hands and legs. I had to rub and beat those parts until they were sore, to overcome in a measure the dead feeling that had taken possession of them. In addition, I had a strange weakness in my back and around my waist, together with an indescribable 'gone' feeling in my stomach. Physicians said it was creeping paralysis, from which, according to their universal conclusion, there is no relief. Once it fastens upon a person, they say, it continues its insidious progress until it reaches a vital point and the sufferer dies. Such was my prospect. I had been doctoring a year and a half steadily, but with no particular benefit, when I saw an advertisement of Dr Miles' Restorative Nervine, procured a bottle and began using it. Marvelous as it may seem, but a few days had passed before every bit of that creepy feeling had left me, and there has not been even the slightest indication of its return. I now feel as well as I ever did, and have gained ten pounds in weight, though I had run down from 170 to 127. Four others have used Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine on my recomendation, and it has been as satisfactory in their cases as in mine."—James Kane, La Rue, O.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. It is free from opiates or dangerous drugs.

THE BOARD OF TRADE.

Enjoys a Free Ride Over the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania.

Thursday was a lovely day and one calculated to make enjoyable any manner of entertainment indulged in. It was a most auspicious time for the free excursion over the Central Railroad tendered by the officials to the Bellefonte Board of Trade.

The special train bearing the party left the Bellefonte station at 1.30 o'clock, carrying over two hundred passengers, comprising the Board of Trade, members of the borough Council, the postoffice employees with their wives and a few other invited guests. The run down was made in one hour and ten minutes. When almost there Mr. George L. Potter requested all on the train to get off at Mill Hall and assemble on the depot platform, which was accordingly done. Mr. James H. Harris, President of the Board of Trade, climbed on a truck and made a brief speech, thanking Mr. Gephart for his efforts in securing such an enterprise, which had already shown good results in cheaper freight rates and better facilities; that if the people and the Board of Trade continued their efforts greater blessings to our town would follow. He then introduced Clement Dale, Esq., Secretary of the Board, who read the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, J. W. Gephart, Esq., has been untiring in his efforts to secure the location, construction and successful operation of the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania, connecting Bellefonte with Mill Hall and thus opening up avenues of travel, trade and commerce, east and west, by means of competing lines of railroad, and,

WHEREAS, On this day an invitation has been extended to the Board of Trade of Bellefonte and the Council of the Borough of Bellefonte, to enjoy the privileges and benefits of a ride over said road, thus giving us an opportunity of seeing the advantages of constructing said railroad through a rich and fertile valley. Therefore, be it

Resolved, That we, the members of the Board of Trade, and members of the Town Council, for ourselves and citizens of Bellefonte, desire to express our appreciation of the kindness of Superintendent J. W. Gephart in extending to us this complimentary excursion, and of the energy and ability which has secured to us this competing line; and be it further

Resolved, That, in the inception and successful completion of this enterprise, Mr. Gephart has earned the gratitude of our town and county and that we wish for him and the Central Railroad present and future prosperity, which we will use our best efforts to further.

JAMES H. HARRIS, Pres.,
CLEMENT DALE, Sec'y.

Mr. Dale was fallowed by Mr. J. W. Gephart, Superintendent of the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania, who said that this was a part of the program he had not been apprised of until a few moments previous. He was, however, glad to know that his efforts were appreciated, but he could not have succeded had not the people of Bellefonte assisted him in the start, enabling him to obtain aid from other quarters, which resulted in the completion of work. He was glad to be able to take the Board of Trade, and the other gentlemen present, free over the line and show them what had been done. He was glad to be able to give these popular excursions and hoped that it would result in the people getting more favorable excursion rates over the Pennsylvania railroad also. At the close of Superintendent Gephart's remarks John Blanchard, Esq., was called for and responded in a neat speech. D. F. Fortney, Esq., was the last speaker and he talked about three minutes in his usual happy strain. The ladies and gentlemen of the party then boarded the train for the return trip and in just one hour and five minutes they were landed in Bellefonte.

NOTES.

Warren Burnsides was one of the passengers.

There were 186 tickets furnished by Clement Dale, Secretary of the Board.

During the speech making Messrs. Robert Hunter and John Shugert were called on, but they failed to respond:

ESTIMATING A MAN'S WEALTH.

Forty per cent. off for truth is a reasonable allowance that bankers make when calculating what a deceased millionaire has left, and this is not always enough. A few years ago a gentleman largely identified with great manufacturing interests died, and the newspaper obituaries proclaimed that another millionaire had passed away. When his estate was settled it was found that the deceased was not even a hundred thousand dollaraire: He had been a millionaire, but had lost almost everything in speculations, which he had succeeded in keeping secret from the world—even from the world of clubdom and bankdom. When a reputed multi-millionaire says he does not know what he is really worth, the world laughs, and yet it is probable that he is merely speaking the simple truth, bearing in mind how much the values of securities may be dependent on his life.

VERY FLATTERING.

Says Wednesday's Huntingdon News: "Twenty-one members of the Huntingdon Bar have signed a petition requesting his Honor Judge Furst to be a canditate for renomination. This is certainly very flattering, coming as it does away from the Judge's home, but from those who have been closely identified with him and know his ability as a jurist. He will give his answer to-day, and it is believed to be favorable."

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY.

Thursday, Washington's birthday, how many will think of it unless reminded of it? Once it was a regularly celebrated anniversary, but who celebrates it now? The pupils in some of the schools, in some sort of fashion, just as they celebrate the birth of Whittier or Longfellow or some other poet or man of letters. Perhaps in a college here or there the anniversary is celebrated, but in much the same way as in the schools. Washington has been dead nearly a century, and meantime there has been the War of the Rebellion, in its stupendous movements eclipsing the War of the Revolution, and bringing into prominence other great captains and one great President, whose tragic end enlisted the sympathy and engaged the thought of millions. The literature of the one war is on the top shelves, while that of the other is still pouring from the press. Washington and his companions are consequently obscured and forgotten.

That ought to be. This country is in a transition period. There are mighty changes impending, industrial, social, moral, and, therefore, political. The effects of a marvelous development of material interest, of an immigration never paralleled in modern time, of a daring spirit of experiment on a continental scale are ripening fast. Man is mortal, but principles are immortal. Washington is no more, but the principles which guided him remain. They may be lost to sight, though, just as he has been to many. And that is a peril. The changes which are coming nothing can prevent. But whether they shall be for weal or woe depends on whether or not they are met by people guided and sustained by those principles which guided and sustained Washington. All things work together for good for those who know and respect the truth; the future will be safe if the American people know and respect the principles with which the name of Washington is inseparable.

Do they all know and respect these as they should? Are there not multitudes who neither know nor respect them? It would be easy to call out of the recent past ample proof of this. Washington is no more, but Washington's name is an imperishable symbol. The fathers were wise in directing attention to that annually. It would be well if their example was emulated if the birthday of Washington was regularly made the occasion of a celebration worthy of the name.

MUSICAL CONVENTION.

A convention of vocal and instrumental music is being held in the Reformed church at Boalsburg, Pa., beginning on Monday evening, February 26, 1894, continuing four days, with three rehearsals daily, closing with two grand concerts on the evenings of Thursday and Friday, March 1st and 2nd.

The convention will be under the direction of P. H. Meyer, of Boalsburg, assisted on the piano by Miss Annie Miller, of Bellefonte. Miss May Myton, of Huntingdon, one of the finest soprano soloists in Central Pennsylvania will be present the entire week. Prof. Lowell M. Meyer will also be in attendance. An orchestra will assist in the choruses. Singers and lovers of music are cordially invited to take part. The programme will consist of full choruses, qeartetts, duets, solos, etc.

TERMS:—Singers ticket 50c, course ticket 50c, single rehearsal 10c, concerts 25.

Books furnished free. Singers entertained free. The opening session free to all. All singers coming by railroad will stop off at Oak Hall station where a hack will meet all trains. It is important that singers from a distance will be in attendance as early in the week as possible. For further particulars address any of the committeemen.

COMMITTEE:—S. F. Ishler, A. W. Dale, O. W. Stover, A H. Hosterman, D. W. Meyer, and Alfred Osman.

MUSICAL MENTION.

Among the musical talent from a distance who will be in Bellefonte to take part in the musical entertainment to be given in the Presbyterian church on March 9th, in the evening, will be Prof. S. Tudor Strang, pipe organist of Philadelphia; Mr. Geo. Ford, the famous basso profundo, of the North Broad street church, of Philadelphia; Miss Mame Keim soprano, of Philadelphia; Miss Gillan, violin soloist, Philadelphia; Miss Mary Derr, soprano vocalist, of New York; Mr. White, xylophonist of New York and others. A number of prominent local musicians will also assist. The complete program will be given out later.

A FARMER'S COMPENSATION.

A subscriber asks what compensation a farmer is entitled to for erecting and maintaining a watering frough at the side of a public road. The road law of 1886 says that any one who may erect a suitable watering trough on a public road or highway and keeps the same in repair is entitled to a fee not exceeding five dollars, to be agreed upon at the time by the party erecting the trough and the township supervisor. These watering places shall be approved by the supervisor, and but one trough in every five miles can have the benefit, the oldest trough having the preference.

—In our report of the vote of Bellefonte borough on Wednesday the types made it out that Bathurst was elected High Constable. It should have been Berger he receiving 421 votes to Bathurst's 408.

DEATH OF CYRUS GOSS.

He Expires Suddenly at His Home in Altoona.

The many friends in Bellefonte and Centre county will be pained to hear of the very sudden death of ex-county treasurer Cyrus Goss, which occurred at his home, 314 Second avenue, Altoona, on Thursday morning about 4 o'clock, the cause of his death being pleuri-pneumonia. Mr. Goss was born at Baileyville, this county December 6, 1844, thus making him 49 years, 2 months and 16 days of age. Most all of his life, up to 1887, was spent on the farm in Ferguson township. Always having taken an interest in politics, he at that time became a candidate for the nomination for county teresurer. The convention in 1887 nominated him and, that being the year of the slump in the democratic party, Mr. Goss was elected by a good majority. In the spring of 1888 he moved to Bellefonte and assumed the duties of that important office and so well and ably did he fulfill the trust imposed that he won not only the full confidence of his own party but the highest commendation from his political opponents. On the expiration of his term of office, in 1891, Mr. Goss with his family moved to Boalsburg, thence to Centre Hall, and about a year ago moved to Altoona. For some time past he was engaged in the insurance business and was very successful.

Mr. Goss is survived by his wife and eleven children, eight boys and three girls, all of whom are unmarried and at home. He is also survived by several brothers and sisters. Mr. Goss was a regular attendant of the Presbyterian church; was a member of Bellefonte Lodge, No 268, Free and Accepted Mansons, and also Constans Commandery, No. 33, Knights Templar, of this place.

The remains were taken this morning to Pine Grove, this county, where the funeral took place on Sunday at 12.30 o'clock.

BY GREGG POST.

The turkey dinner and musical and literary entertainment given by Gregg Post Thursday was a grand success in every particular. Much credit is due the ladies who took charge of the dinner and restaurant as quite a large amount of money was realized. The rush for dinner was so great that it was with difficulty that those going on the Board of Trade excursion could be served in time to make the train. At last every one was satisfied and the rooms cleared, when the ladies arranged the tables for supper, at which meal could be had oysters in every style, chicken salad, ice cream, cake, in fact, everything that one could wish to satisfy the inner man.

At 7.30 o'clock Prof. Meyer's orchestra entered the hall accompanied by a number of High School students. D. F. Fortney, Esq., then announced the program, which consisted of music and recitations, as announced in Thursday's paper. The hall was crowded to its utmost capacity and every one present was delighted with the evening's entertainment. The proceeds are all used by the Post for charitable purposes and many poor soldiers and their families are relieved by the aid given them by Gregg Post. The committee desires us to thank all who in any way contributed to the affair.

—At first it was the Sherman Silver bill that caused the hard times. That bill was sepealed and then it was the McKinly bill that continued the business depression. The house promptly repealed that bill and the times continue to be worse than ever. We suppose the continuation of hard times will hereafter be blamed on Grow's unprecedented majority of last Tuesday. Such is political life.

—One of the most prosperous merchants in DuBois spends $700 a year in advertising through the newspapers of that place. We venture the opinion that this is more than all the merchants of Bellefonte combined pay annually for advertising. DuBois merchants are exceedingly prosperous, and Bellefonte merchants are continually crying "dull times."

THE SOUTH SCARIFICED.

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—Ex-Mayor Abram S. Hewitt created somewhat of a sensation at the banquet of the Southern Society last night in a speech in which he severely criticised the Southern statesmen of to-day.

Mr. Hewitt responded to the toast: "The National Credit." He said:

"The Southerners of to-day are not what their fathers were—men of college training, of disciplined minds, men of high ideals, with the knowledge that gives power and love of study and research. The Southerners of the present may be divided into three classes: The men of brains who have come North; those who have stayed at home and devoted themselves to industrial development because they were too poor to come North, and those others who, being fit for nothing else have turned their attention to politics.

"And what is the result of the performances of this latter class? One Southern man is battling to-day for the idea of his life. He is trying to coin the seignorage. He might as well try to coin a vacum. His supporters are Southerners and a hitherto undiscovered and unclassified species from the West. The difference between the real and the sham value of a silver dollar is the seigniorage, and this it is the Southerners propose to coin into more money. It is like trying to coin a negative quantity on the other side of the vacuum. Yet your representatives would do this thing.

"Other exponents of Southern interests have succumbed to the fallacy that the appointment to the Supreme Court bench is a local question to be settled between the President and some local politician.

"Go and tell your Southern people that Calhoun and Benton Rivers and the grand old Southerners of former times would have abandoned their senatorial honors and have gone home in sackcloth and ashes, rather than degrade those honors and drag themselves down to the status of a mere petty politician, without statesmanship, without breadth or power of intellect, without character, without the right to speak for the great State of New York.

"I know you Southerners in Washington; I know them to be honest, truthful, gallant. But I also know them to be ignorant. It is the only word that fits; blank, gross ignorance, almost in a solid body, with a few honorable exceptions, they gave their votes to the silver bill. That is Southern statesmanship at the end of the Nineteenth century. That is ignorance, that goes forward with the dangerous strength of its own convictions. There is no fool like the fool who rushes in where angels fear to tread."

A burst of applause followed Mr. Hewitt's ending. It was for the audacity and biting brilliancy of the speech, and not for the sentiment, for the faces turned toward the speaker were many of them flushed with indignation.

G. A. R. RESOLUTIONS.

The following resolutions were adopted by Dr. Geo. L. Potter Post, G. A. R., No. 261, Dept of Pa.:

WHEREAS, It has pleased God, the all wise ruler of the universe, in his infinite Wisdom, to remove from the family circle by death, the estimable Wife of comrade James McMullen; be it.

Resolved, By Dr. Geo. L. Potter Post, G. A. R., that we deeply sympathize with the bereaved family in their sad affliction, and hope they may be reunited in a better land.

Resolved, That a copy of the foregoing resolutions be presented to the comrade and a copy entered on the minutes of the Post, and also published in the county papers.

SISTERS IN THE SCHOOLS.

The transfer of 230 Catholic children from St. James' parochial school, Pittsburg, to the Riverside public school is an important step. It removes the line of distinction between the Protestant and Catholic children of that section of the city, which line was decidedly non-American, and therefore not desirable. The school rooms of which the Sisters of Charity take charge are open to children of all denominations, and the instruction will be on the lines obtaining for a like grade throughout the city—strictly non-sectarian. On its face the innovation appears unobjectionable and sensible. Whether it will be successful and thus lead to a movement which will solve the parochial school question cannot be told until it has been thoroughly tried.

THE KEARSARGE.

The Inquiry Into the Wreck of the Historic Vessel.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., February 26.—The court of inquiry into the Kearsarge affair convened at 12 o'clock to-day at the Brooklyn navy yard. The officers of the court are: Rear Admiral Gherardi, president; Captain Joseph F. Miller, Captain Theodore F. Kane and Lieutenant James J. Kelly, as judge advocate.

It was decided to have open sessions. After the board had been sworn Commander Lyman, the navigator of the Kearsarge, was called and brought all the papers that had been in his charge with him. Commander Heyerman, of the Kearsarge, was sent for and while a messenger was searchimg for him Rear Admiral Stanton entered the room and was greeted warmly by the other officers. Admiral Stanton, Commander Heyerman and Lieutenant Commander Lyman were asked in turn if they wished to give testimony and also if they wished to be represented by counsel. They replied that they did not wish to be represented by counsel and wished to appear before the committee.

A short recess was then taken.

Promptly at 2 o'clock the 182 surviving sailors and marines who had been aboard the Kearsarge when she was wrecked, lined up on one side of the upper deck of the Vermont, with all the officers, including Rear Admiral Stanton, on the other.

The board of inquiry took up a position in the centre. Judge Advocate Kelly read the orders under which the board was acting. Admiral Gherardi sworn the officers and men of the Kearsarge, and the narrative of the wreck by Commander Heyerman, was read. It did not differ materially from the accounts furnished by the survivors when they arrived here last week on the City of Paro. In his account of the wreck Commander Heyerman said that Roncador reef should have been passed at 6 p. m. on the evening of February 2, and it was because such should have been the case, according to calculations, that the Kearsarge was put on a course which landed her on the reef half an hour later.

When the judge advocate had finished the reading, Admiral Gherardi gave the men a few minutes in which to consider whether they wanted to say anything regarding the matter. He said to them: "This is not a question of spite or dislike, but a question of duty."

He looked at the officers inquiringly and they shook their heads in the negative. Not a sound came from the 182 men grouped together. That ended the proceedings. The men were piped down and the board adjourned until to morrow morning when the examination of witnesses will begin.

HON. B. L. HEWIT ILL.

Hon. B. L. Hewit, of Hollidaysburg, ex-speaker of the state house of representatives, is lying seriously ill at the Bingham House, Philadelphia. He had been unwell for some time past, and after he finished his labors in the Jaekel Caldwell case, he concluded to consult Dr. Pepper, of Philadelphia. In fact, he was unfit to take part in the above named case at all, and so expressed himself to Judge Landis.

Last Tuesday he left for Philadelphia, accompanied by his son, Oliver. His condition became no better, and, during the latter part of the week, he received a stroke. Dr. Pepper pronounced his illness muscular rheumatism. He has entirely lost the use of his left arm and leg, and, although suffering intense pain, he maintains consciousness.

On Friday a telegram was received by Mrs. Hewit at Hollidaysburg stating her husband's serious illness, and she left that night for Philadelphia. On Saturday another was received by his son Harry, summoning him to the bedside. He left Saturday morning. Last night a telegram received at the TIMES office stated that Dr. Mills had been called in consultation and grave fears of Mr. Hewit's recovery are entertained.

WERE POISONED.

SOMERSET, Pa., February 26.—From the best information possible here to-night two farmers are dead, ten or twelve are seriously sick, and fifty more are suffering from the effects of eating poisoned meat at a sale held February 22, in Quemahoning township. Jeremiah Ringle, a prominent citizen of the township, died this morning and Alexander Rhodes, a leading farmer of Jenner township, is reported to to have died during the day, both from poisoning. Those suffering from the poison are scattered all over the north of the county. Last Thursday a public sale of personal property of William Holder, of Jenner township, took place. As is the custom on such occasion, a lunch was prepared the day before by the woman who had charge of Holder's effects. Among other articles of food prepared was a lot of beef that was cooked in a copper kettle and stood in the vessel over night. About 250 people attended the sale and most of them partook of the beef. Shortly after eating the meat a large number became violently ill. A rumor reached here to-night that at least ten or twelve other residents of Jenner and Quemahoning township cannot possibly recover.

GOT ANOTHER SETBACK.

BROOKLYN, February 26.—John Y. McKane got another setback this morning in his fight for liberty when Justice Cullen, sitting in the court of oyer and terminer, denied his application for a stay till the court of appeals can pass on his conviction. This means that unless his lawyers can find some judge in the state who will grant a stay at once, McKane will have to go to Sing Sing in twenty-four hours.

GROW'S MAJORITY 187,169.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 26.—The official count of Allegheny and Armstrong counties was completed today. Allegheny county's official plurality is shown to be 33,655, about 5,000 greater than the late estimates from that county. This increases Grow's plurality in the state to 187,169.

The total vote of the State for the five candidates for Congressman-at-Large was: Grow (returns from Greene county missing), 486,028; Hancock (returns from Greene missing), 298,209; Markley (returns from Greene and Westmoreland missing), 2,457; Morrow (returns from Greene and Westmoreland missing), 9,256; Lotier (returns from Greene and Westmoreland missing), 3,845.

WORKMEN OUT ON STRIKE.

CHICAGO, February 26.—Two hundred and fifty union workmen employed in the stock exchange building, now being erected, struck this morning in sympathy with the carpenters who have been on strike on that building for the past ten days against a reduction of wages. The contractors agreed to concede all the demands of the carpenters' union this afternoon, but another difficulty confronts them which will further delay the settlement of the strike. The trade and labor assembly, representing the plasters, electrical men and other union workers, who struck this morning in sympathy with the carpenters, has now made additional demands, and until these are conceded the strike is as far from settlement as ever.

SUPPOSED TO BE DEAD.

WILKESBARRE, Feb. 26.—This is the thirteenth day and not a sign has yet been discovered of the thirteen victims in the Gaylord mine at Plymouth. The miners engaged in exploring have succeeded in working their way through the first fall and are now trying to removed, and there is no telling when they will reach the men. A slight fall took place late last night in the mine where the reecuers were at work which set them back for a time. From present indications it is only guess work as to where the men can be, and all the hope of finding them alive has been abandoned.

Standing, with reluctant feet,
Where womanhood and childhood meet.
'Tis a supreme moment! 'Tis a critical period! No maiden should attempt passing this boundary-line without the aid and assurance of Dr Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Its helpfulness in tiding over the perils incident to young womanhood, is universally acknowledged! No mother can put within the hands of her daughter, anything that will prove more valuable in meeting all her requirements! Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is made expressly for all diseases peculiar to woman, and is the only medicine of its kind, sold through druggists, and guaranteed to give satisfaction in every case, or money refunded.

BELLEFONTE NOT IN IT.

Dubois Courier: Mr. Good was in town Friday feeling the pulse of the local base ball enthusiasts in regard to the formation of a league. Renovo is a member of the River league, but considers the jumps too long and thinks that a more compact circuit can be arranged. Mr. Good says that Williamsport Renovo, Lock Haven and Ridgway favor a league and it is all up to DuBois and Punxsutawney to come in to complete the necessary number of clubs, six.

EASTER DATES.

Easter comes very early this year, as it falls on March 25, but it will be nearly a hundred years before it falls again on this date, the next years being 1951, 2035, 2046, 2057, 2103, 2114, 2125 and 2198. The earliest date on which Easter can fall is March 22, and the last Easters on this date were in the years 1693, 1716 and 1818; but so early an Easter will not come again until 1970.

Triplets, two boys and a girl, were born to Mrs. George Brudney, of Johnstown, Saturday morning. The mother and babies are well. Mr. and Mrs. Brudney are Slavs.

Recent deaths in Perry county are: Daniel Zeigler, of Pfountz's Valley, aged 76 years; William Kochenderfer, of Jackson township, aged 68; Mrs. Jeremiah Cowlick, of near Millerstown aged—.

Frank Tannenbaum, of Johnstown, was thrown from a street car in that city Saturday afternoon and sustained several ugly scalp wounds as a consequence. It was some time before he regained consciousness.

Miss Marth Findley arrived at Millhall, Clinton county, on Wednesday of last week, from Vassar Mich., and was married to A. C. Kauffman. She had never before met him. The wedding resulted from a matrimonial advertisement. The groom is aged 65 and the bride about 25.

Ross, the 2-year-old son of Hezekiah Gongaware, residing near Irwin, on Saturday afternoon toddled out of his home to a building where food for feeding the stock was being steamed. He opened the furnace door when his clothing caught fire and he was burned so badly that he died a few hours later.

John Burnst, of Williamsport, is under $500 bail for a hearing before an alderman on the charge of brutally beating his son Jacob, aged 16 years, on Thursday last. The boy was suffering from a very sore foot and on the day in question did not go to work. On hearing of this it is alleged his father beat him so badly as to lacerate his head, face and body.

Early Monday morning the dwelling house owned and occupied by William S. Johnson, Williamsport, was burned almost to the ground Mr. Johnson and his wife escaped being burned to death by jumping from a second story window. The loss is $1,200 on which there is no insurance. Cash to the amount of $200 was also burned up. Incendiarism is suspected.

Levi Hall, a well-known resident of Murrysville, Westmoreland county, arose from his bed Sunday morning and deliberately shot himself through the head with a 32-calibre revolver. Deceased was a day laborer, and for some time past had nothing to do. Being unable to obtain work he became despondent, and it is presumed that during one of these moods he decided to end his existence. He was 65 years of age and leaves a wife and several children in destitute circumstances.

GOOD-FOR-NOTHINGS.

The young man who is petted too much at home is seldom any good. What is wanted now-a-days is a practical man who can do something else besides twist a cane and smoke cigarettes. The time to learn to work and to learn business habits is in one's youth. He who leads an aimless life until he is 25 or 30 years of age, and then recognizes the fact that he has made nothing of himself, has precious little to recommend him, if he applies for a job. This may be a chestnut but it fits not a few young men in this community. There is nothing like being practical, and there is one way to be so. Acquire business habits and train yourself to honest hard work.

"Praise be to him, whose wondrous skill
Has conquered every human ill—
He now alone, as victor, stands
The 'Golden' compound of his hands."

So spake a man, with tribute crowned,
Of Dr. Pierce, the "world-renowned,"
Whose "Medical Discovery"
Had vanquished pain and set him free.

One can but speak in praise of a remedy so effectual and unfailing as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Acting promptly and thoroughly, it produces permanent cures. Consumption, in its early stages, scrofula, liver and kidney disorders, and all blood diseases, are within the field of its unbounded success.

WILL ISSUE BONDS.

The commissioners of Clinton county will issue bonds to the amount of $16,500 to cover the indebtedness, interest and cost of the Lock Haven bridge. These bonds will be issued in denominations of $100 to $500 and will bear 4 4-10 per cent. interest per annum, payable semi-annually. The bonds will run twenty years, but will be redeemable at the option of the commissioners any time after the expiration of fifteen years. Sealed proposals for these bonds must be handed in at the commissioners' office before 12 o'clock noon Tuesday, March 27.

A SILVER DOLLAR FLOOR.

A Mahanoy City saloon keeper is putting down a marble floor, of foot square blocks. In the corner of each is imbedded a silver dollar, making in all eighty-five dollars. In the center of the floor as a cap sheaf to the whole glittering display of wealth, a twenty dollar gold piece has been placed. The coins are all protected by a covering of plate glass.

Rain or storm, hail or snow, the letter carrier must be out toiling along the slushy streets. His duty compels him to face the pitiless storm, and rheumatism is frequently the result of such exposure. This however may be readily cured by Salvation Oil, the best of liniments.

M. E. CONFERENCE.

Will be Held in Harrisburg Soon. Some Important Statistics.

About this time last year Bellefonte was all in a flutter of excitement with preparations for the entertainment of the Central Pennsylvania Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, which convened here on March 15th. This year the Methodist brethren of Harrisburg are making just as elaborate preparations for the entertainment of that ecclesiastical body which will convene in the Fifth street church, Wednesday, March 14th. This is the most notable religious gathering taking place in this part of the state, covering as it does the largest expanse of territory of any conference in Pennsylvania:

In this territory there are 211 appointments, divided into five divisions, as follows: Williamsport district, with 48 appointments; Danville district, with 45 appointments; Harrisburg district, with 40 appointments; Juniata district, with 33 appointments, and Altoona district, with 45 appointments.

MEMBERSHIP.

According to the reports as presented a year ago Altoona district is in the lead in point of membership, it having 11,872 full members and 2,075 probationers. Harrisburg comes next with 10,542 members; Danville, 10,458; Williamsport, 9,789, and Juniata 8,729, a total of 51,398 members; an increase of 2,418 over the preceding year. This year the increase promises to be even larger than that of last year.

THE CHURCH PROPERTY.

The church property of the various districts, according to the reports handed in at the last Conference, is thus quoted: Altoona district, 122 churches valued at $456,000; Danville, 116 valued at $429,000; Harrisburg, 87 valued at $640,075; Juniata, 124 valued at $266,950; Williamsport, 102 valued at $589,355, a total of 551 churches with a valuation of $2,382,055, an increase in valuation of $75,000. There are 156 parsonages with a valuation of $335,475.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS.

The Sunday schools foot up as follows: Altoona district, 142 schools, 2,108 officers and teachers and 15,702 scholars. Danville, 114 schools, 1,878 officers and teachers and 13,980 scholars. Harrisburg, 84 schools, 1,872 officers and teachers and 13,896 scholars. Juniata, 125 schools, 1,705 officers and teachers and 11,215 scholars. Williamsport, 118 schools, 1,792 officers and teachers and 13,059 scholars, a grand total of 583 schools, 9,355 officers and teachers and 67,842 scholars, an increase of about 3 per cent over the preceding year

COLLECTIONS.

In the district there was raised for pastor's support the sum of $196,229; for presiding elders, $11,872; for Bishops, 2,638; for conference claimants, $8,025; for current expenses of churches and Sunday schools, $65,458; for missions, $42,747; for all other benevolent collections, $32,582, making a grand total of moneys raised and collected for all purposes (except local church erection and payment of debts, for which the sum of $146,651 was expended) of $359,452. This is a large increase over all preceding years.

The conference has in it a total of 246 ministerial members, about 25 of which number are non-effective. In addition, however, there are in the district, 151 local preachers. The sessions this year will be presided over by Bishop John F. Hurst, D. D., L. L. D., of Washington, D. C.

—The new hotel at State College is fast nearing completion and it is expected will be ready for business by the first of April. The name that will be given to it is the University Inn. It will be a large and commodious hostelry and is designed as a lodging place for students as well as the accommodation of transient custom. The Landlord will be an experienced man from Atlantic City.

A LOOK AT YOUR TONGUE will show you whether you need Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. If it's furred or coated; if you've no appetite, and have frequent headaches with or without dizziness, chilly sensations, and occasional nausea; if you feel dull, drowsy, and greatly tired or debilitated—that proves that you're bilious.

The best things in the world for biliousness are these little "Pellets." They gently stimulate and powerfully invigorate the liver. They're the smallest and the easiest to take. There's no disturbance to the system, diet, or occupation. One tiny, sugar-coated Pellet at a dose is a perfect corrective and regulator.

Is perfectly, permanently, and positively cured by Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. The makers of this medicine prove that by their offer. It's $500 cash for an incurable case.

WEDDING RINGS.

Wedding rings were used both by the Greeks and Romans, but then only at the ceremony of betrothal and not that of marriage. The Anglo-Saxon bridegroom at the betrothal gave a wed, or pledge, and a ring was placed on the maiden's right hand, where it remained until marriage, and was then transferred to the left. During the reigns of George I. and George II. the wedding ring was often worn on the thumb. The placing of the ring on the book is a remnant of the ancient custom of blessing the ring by sprinkling holy water in the form of a cross, and this is still done in the Catholic church.

One of the earliest forms of rings was the gemel, or double ring, and this was used as a pledge before marriage. They were generally made in three parts, and broken in the presence of a witness, who retained the third part. In Germany, Sweden, Norway and Denmark, it was a common custom for the engaged couple each to give to the other a plain gold ring, much resembling a wedding ring. In the last century wedding rings were frequently inscribed with posies. It was a general custom in the Middle Ages for the bridegroom to place the ring first on the thumb of the bride, then on her second finger and then on her third, at the name of each person of the Trinity, "leaving it," as the rubric directs, on her fourth finger at the word amen, thus signifying by action, not less than by word, that he was undertaking the duties of the married state "in the name of the Father, of the Son and the Holy Ghost." The reason assigned for the fourth finger being appointed as the final resting place for the wedding ring is because on that finger there is generally believed to be a certain vein which proceeds to the heart. The left hand most probably was appointed because the virgins espoused to the Church wore the ring of their celestial nuptials on the right hand.

BUSINESS MEN,

From close application and too little exercise, are especially liable to constipation-clogging up nature's great sewers-producing headache, biliousness, sluggish circulation and general derangement of the vital organs. A regular movement of the bowels is indispensable to perfect health; to neglect, is to imperil! If constipated, Pierce's Pleasant Pellets will cure you. No interference with business. Very modest expense. mild in action, yet powerful in cleansing, regulating the stomach, liver and bowels, curing constipation, headache and kindred ailments.

NO MORE MATCHES.

WASHINGTON, February 26.—There will be no more foot ball matches between the military cadets, of Annapolis. Reports from the superintendents of the two academies were received recently and the superintendents agreed that while foot ball was a good thing for the cadets on their own grounds, trips to other places to play teams there seriously interfered with study and discipline.

Secretary Herbert and Lamont had a talk over the question and have endorsed these views of the superintendents and issued orders accordingly.

REGISTRATION LAW.

On Thursday, March 1, a new law relative to the state board of medical examiners goes into effect. Section 14 of the act provides that from and after the first day of March, 1894, no person shall enter upon the practice of medicine or surgery in the state unless he or she has complied with the provisions of the act and shall exhibit to the prothonotary in the county in which he or she desires to practice medicine or surgery a license duly granted by the state board. After exhibiting the license and upon the payment of one dollar the applicant shall be registered.

—In looking over the various jury lists drawn for the different terms of court one is often led to wonder whether, when the wheel is being filled, it is done impartially as regards location, etc., or whether it is filled with the names of men who are influential as politicians, in business or otherwise, or by men who are persona friends and whose names have been handed in for that special purpose. The list published in to day's paper contains the names of thirteen residents of Bellefonte, eight from Philipsburg, seven from Milesburg and Boggs township, four from Snow Shoe, and the others are scattered all over the county.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

Following is the list of marriage licenses granted by the register of Centre county during the past week:

H. B. Nevil and Bertha M. Hartsock, both of Tusseyville, Pa.

Harry Dukeman and Lizzie M. Deters, both of Roland, Pa.

C. E. Confer, of Millheim, and Gertie A. McClintic, of White Springs, Union Co., Pa.

Rudolph J. Schad and Edith Harris, both of Bellefonte, Pa.

—Monday evening just south of Clearfield, the locomotive of the express train on the T. & C. railway, struck a buggy containing two ladies and two babies. The buggy was completely smashed into smithereens and the occupants were all thrown out, though miraculously indeed not one of them, not even a baby, was injured in the least. The horse, too, escaped injury.

AN UNSEEN ENEMY

Is more to be dreaded than an open and visible one. The subtle and lurking foe, which under the generic name of malaria manifests itself, when it clutches us in its tenacious grasp, in the various form of chills and fever, bilious remittent, dumb ague or ague cake, can only be effectually guarded against by fortifying the system against its insidious attacks with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a thorough anidote to the poison of miasma in the system, and a safeguard against it thoroughly to be relied upon. In the event of a malarious attack, avoid poisoning your system with quinine, and use instead this wholesome remedy, unobjectionable in taste and far more efficacious than any drug. Use the Bitters for dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation, kidney complaints and rheumatism.

ATTACKED PROHIBITIONISTS.

SCRANTON, Pa., Feb. 27.—A sensation that has stirred the city occurred last evening at a meeting in the Thirteenth, the blue blood ward of the city, for the purpose of seeking to keep saloons out of the ward. The meeting was held in the Asbury Methodist Episcopal church, and was at the outset captured by the Prohibitionists, and members of this party proceeded to make their usual set speeches in which the Bible was referred to and verses were quoted to show that the liquor dealers will be eternally damned.

These extravagant utterances brought to his feet Rev. Frank Schell Ballentine, pastor of the Green Ridge Episcopal church, who gave the Prohibitionists a terrible raking, saying the result aimed at could never be attained by abusive speeches, misquotations of Scripture and by making faces at the people who have petitioned for licenses, who are among the brightest lawyers, the most active business men and the most substantial supporters of the churches in the ward.

The Prohibitionists began to hiss the speaker, but he held his ground and said a hiss was the poorest argument a man could use who did not use a club. Chairman Thompson, a radical Prohibitionist, declared that Prohibitionists are ashamed of Rev. Mr, Ballentine and at the attitude that has always been taken by the Episcopal church. The meeting 'ell flat.

KINZUA WHITECAPS.

John Bryton Taken from His Home and Given a Flogging.

Bradford, Pa., February 27.—Whitecaps took it upon themselves last night to reform a resident of Kinzua. John Bryton, said to be a shiftless fellow, who refused to work and support his wife and child, was the object of the whitecaps' wrath. A few days ago Bryton's baby died and there was said to be no food in the house, the mother going out to a neighbors to beg a cup of milk for the child. The husband was in the house when the woman returned and it was said he took the milk and drank it.

At midnight a crowd of fifty men surrounded Bryton's hovel, forced an entrance, and proceeded to carry out their prearranged program. They stripped the fellow, secured a tub of cold water and gave him a bath with lye for soap. Then they flogged him with hickory withes, each one of forty-four men giving him four blows. He bore his punishment stolcally for some time, but eventually weakened and begged for mercy. He promised to leave the country and never come back if they allowed him to go. They granted his request and at daybreak he departed. The wife is being cared for by the people of Kinzua.

THAT CHURCH CONCERT.

Every effort for good should be encouraged and helped along as much as possible by the public in general. With this idea in view, we again wish to call the attention of all to the approaching musicale to be given in the Presbyterian church on Friday evening, March 9th. The object is a laudable one and the people of Bellefonte can help the good cause by turning out en masse and filling the church to overflowing on that occasion.

The concert is being gotten up by Mrs. Aikens assisted by Judge A. O. Furst and they have already secured the following talented personages to assist:

Prof. S. Tudor Strang, of Philadelphia, a gentleman who is already well know in Bellefonte, will be here to manipulate the pipe organ. His renderings will be something worth hearing. Prof. George Ford, the distinguished basso-profundo of North Broad street church, Philadelphia, also known here, will be present. The quality, compass and strength of his voice gives him a prominent position among Philadelphia vocalists. That city will also furnish a leading soprano in the person of Miss Mamie Keim, a possessor of a voice of rare excellence. Another of the sopranos will be Miss Mary Derr, of New York. This lady has given much time and care to vocal culture and her voice is rich and finished. To hear her is delightful. Another specialist who will be present is Miss Jennie Gillan, of Philadelphia, the famous violinist, whose renderings are said to equal even the farfamed. Camelia Urso. You want to go and see her draw her bow. Then there will be Mr. W A White, the New York agent of the Estey Piano company, who is reputed to have no superior in America as a performer. All the above with an array of local talent will make up a corps which can guarantee your money's worth twice over. The widely known Estey piano will beused at the concert. For fuller particulars watch for the large bills soon to be printed.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

WILLIAMSPORT, February 27.—Northern Central passenger train number six, from Canandaigua, had a thrilling experience between Ralston and this city this evening, and it is considered a miracle that many lives were not sacrificed. A few miles south of Ralston there is a switch on which freight trains are sidetracked to permit the pessage of the faster trains. Between 5 and 6 o'clock this evening as No. 6 was dashing along at the rate of thirty miles an hour the locomotive entered the switch, which had been left open, and dashed into the rear of the freight. The engineer had time to reverse and apply the air brakes and then he and the fireman leaped for their lives. The shock shattered the glass in the car windows and gave the passengers a severe shaking up, and several were cut by flying glass. The train kept the rails and after the excitement had been allayed proceeded to this city. An investigation as to the responsibility is to be made.

FIGHTING FOR LIBERTY.

OSWEGO, Feb. 27.—William Kennedy, of Syracuse, and a New York lawyer, arrived in town this morning and met Justice Wright at his chambers, where they made an informal application for a stay of proceedings in the case of John Y. McKane.

Justice Wright declined to hear the matter in any form, stating that as Justice Cullen had reviewed the case and decided the matter adversely, it would be improper for him to review Justice Cullen's decision. The lawyers endeavored to keep the fact of their application quiet. They did not register at any of the hotels and it is said they have gone to Watertown, where they will apply to Justice Williams.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."

DR. G. C. OSGOOD, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

DR. J. F. KINCHELOE, Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."

H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

MISSIONARY MEETING.

What Was Done At a Recent Gathering in Milesburg.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Centre Baptist Association held another of their delightful and profitable basket meetings on Saturday, Feb. 17, at Milesburg, Centre county.

The sessions were presided over by Miss Sallie E. Dysart, of Tipton, president of the association society, who also conducted the morning devotional services, in which nearly all present took some part.

A very cordial welcome was extended to all present by Miss Julia Gregg, and the response made by Miss Lizzie Hicks. The good resulting from prior meetings of a similar character were dwelt upon.

The program for the meeting was announced as follows: Woman's Work for Woman. The Need of the Work. The Method of the Work. The Results of the Work. The Results Yet to be Attained. Every Church a Missionary Society.

The first and second topics were opened by the president who gave a brief sketch of the organization for work, both in the Foreign and Home field. She also spoke of the need of the work, as learned from personal observation among the colored people of the south.

The present need of the cause was vividly impressed by the personal letter from Miss M. G. Burdette, corresponding secretary. The thought was further continued in remarks by Rev. S. F. Forgeus, and Rev. Owen James, of Hollidaysburg. Mr. James spoke specially of the temptation of these times, first of all, to lessen gifts to benevolent causes, and the duty of resisting it.

The morning session was brought to a close and an adjournment was had to the lower rooms, where some one had been making an investigation of the baskets, with results that were very acceptable to appetites that had been sharpened by an early morning ride in the keen frosty air.

After this bounteous lunch was disposed of, an hour or more was spent in very pleasant social intercourse.

The afternoon session was opened by a Bible reading on "The Spirit of Mission" by Miss Ella Levy, of Bellefonte.

Rev. J. B. Soule, pastor of the church, rendered a solo, entitled "Who Shall Enter the City."

A well prepared paper on "The Methods of the Work" was presented by Miss Belle Cryder, of Tyrone. The Subject was further discussed by Mrs. Dr. Sellers, of Altoona, Rev. Mr. James, Mrs. W. B. Johnston, of Liberty, and Miss Sue P. Gregg. Mention was made of the benefits of mission study and band work and the observance of conquest meetings in Young People's societies.

Miss Lina Reese, of Tyrone, read a paper in which she dwelt upon the results of the work as encouragement and inspiration for the future.

After a prayer of thankfulness for the results of earnest, consecreated Christian labor, a collection was taken.

Rev. Owen James spoke very earnestly and touchingly upon the results yet to be attained, and the securing of them through a fulfillment of the obligation, which rests upon each individual Christian as "one sent." The appeal was very effective in laying the burden of responsibility upon each one present.

Mrs. Sellers gave a leaf from personal experience of help in the Master's work and His all-sufficient grace in every duty.

After prayer by the president it was decided to accept the invitation from the Memorial church of Altoona and hold another basket meeting on the second Saturday in June.

The benediction was pronounced by Rev. Owen James and an interesting and profitable meeting brought to a close. The enjoyment of the day was an unqualified one by every one present, and each went away with the feeling that "it was good to be there.

Every memory of the day will bring helpfulness and strength to those who were present.

IN TROUBLE

WILKESBARRE, Pa., February 23. The election board at Miners' Mills, three miles from here, was sent for by the court today for irregularities found in their count. On their arrival Judge Rice made an order to have the ballot box opened in court and the vote for congressman-at large recounted, as the return sheet read: Grow, 32: Hancock, 165; the duplicate return, Grow, 32; Hancock, 175, and the tally sheet, Grow, 70; Hancock, 130. The board admitted also that they neglected to count the vote for judge of election and put down seventy votes as a complimentary vote for the republican candidate the vote for the democratic candidate being much larger.

Judge Rice ordered that the district attorney indict the board under the act of 1893; within it is specified that any public official who negligently or wilfully makes a mistake in the performance of his duty, is guilty of a misdemeanor, and the offense is indictable under the law.

A BRAKEMAN KILLED.

HUNTINGDON, February 23.—The revelation of a dream was shown here this morning in the shape of a disastrous wreck on the railroad. Wednesday night Sanford Worley, a Pennsylvania railroad freight brakeman, dreamed that the crew to which he belonged met with a wreck and several members were killed. The crew was called to duty at 12 o'clock last night, and at 1 o'clock this morning their train collided with a draft of cars on the Broad Top tracks, resulting in the death of William Sneath, the serious injury to Conductor Myers and Brakeman Worley, and the demolition of the caboose. Fireman Burris, of the same crew, had a similar dream about a week since.

NEW RAILROAD AGITATED.

The Philadelphia Inquirer gives the following concerning a new rival to the Huntingdon & Broad Top railroad. The project of building a railroad from Bedford to a point on the Cumberland Valley Railroad north of Harrisburg, which has been agitated several times, is now said to have been arranged. Ex-Senator Davis, of the West Virginia Central Road, has arranged with the Pennsylvania Railroad for its construction. The road will be seventy-eight miles long and will cost about $2,000,000. The contractors have agreed to build it for half cash and half bonds. The Pennsylvania Railroad and Ex-senator Davis and his friends will take enough bonds to provide the money needed.

The new road will reduce the haul from the coal mines to tidewater about forty miles. The coal now passes over the Huntingdon and Broad Top Road, reaching the main line of the Pennsylvania at Huntingdon. By the new arrangement the Broad Top Road will be cut out entirely and the Pennsylvania will also have a smaller haul for its main line. But the Cumberland Valley Road, which will benefit largely by the arrangements, is really part of the Pennsylvania, which owns three-quarters of its stock. Moreover, the business can be handled cheaper over the Cumberland Valley than over the main lines as the grades are more advantageous. As to the new road, Senator Davis says there is enough business now waiting to enable it to earn interest on the bonds that will be issued.

The Huntingdon and Broad Top officials do not believe the loss of traffic to this road will be important. They say that George's Creek coal is tied up to their road by a contract that has many years yet to run, and that the coal that can be diverted does not amount to more than 250,000 tons per annum. The loss of this business would not greatly impair the earnings of the road. The Baltimore and Ohio will lose more, as the West Virginia Central people shipped much more over that line than they did over the Broad Top.

STILL GROWING.

PHILADELPHIA, February 23.—Official returns from every county in the state, except Allegheny and Armstrong, and with late careful estimates from these two, show a plurality of 182,322 for Galusha A. Grow, republican candidate for congressman-at-large. Fifty five counties give him 191,813, while twelve give Hancock, democrat, 9,391.

The full vote for congressman-at-large has been received from every county except Allegheny, Armstrong, Washington and Westmoreland. With these counties out the total is: Grow 411,467, Hancock 265,066, Markley 2,357, Morrow 8.808, Lotier 3.523. The four missing counties in 1892, the year with which Tuesday's vote was compared, gave a republican vote of 69,132 and a democratic vote of 51,964.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and untill the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by Cheney & Co Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address,

GIRLS, THIS WILL INTEREST YOU.

An exchange asks: How many miles will the jaws of a gum-chewing girl travel in the course of a year? and then says: Giving her jaw a play of half an inch or an inch of travel for each chew, thirty chews a minute, sixty minutes an hour, ten hours a day, 365 days in a year, her jaws will have traveled 6,750,000 inches, or a fraction over 103 miles. This is for the girl with the small mouth; the big mouthed girl can beat this record.

WHAT WILL DO IT?

MEDICAL writers claim that the successful remedy for nasal catarrh must be non-irritating, easy of application, and one that will reach the remote sores and ulcerated surfaces. The history of the efforts to treat catarrh is proof positive that only one remedy has completely met these conditions, and that is Ely's Cream Balm. This safe and pleasant remedy has mastered catarrh else has ever done, and both physicians and patients freely concede this fact. Our druggists keep it.

THE PRESIDENT JUDGESHIP.

Judge Furst Writes a Letter to the Huntingdon County Bar.

In answer to a recent letter sent to Judge Furst by the members of the Huntingdon county bar, asking him to be a candidate for re-election as President Judge of this district, the following reply was given:

GENTLEMEN:—Your letter of the 16th, requesting me to be a candidate for re-election as President Judge of this district, was duly received this evening.

Nearly ten years ago I came to this county almost an entire stranger. I was inexperienced in the duties of the office which your preference then conferred upon me. I had but one aim then, as I have now—to do my duty under my oath of office, with fidelity to every suitor before the court. I had but one light to follow—not of experience, for I had none—but the principles of the law as I understood them. It would not be singular, under those circumstances, to err. It is often very difficult, under the press of intricate cases, in the midst of trial, to seize upon and apply the correct principles of the law involved in the particular case. The Judge has but little time to stop and think and carefully study. The jury is waiting and parties are restless. The case must be decided, and the only alternative left for the Judge is to pronounce his judgment according to the light or learning he may have; and if he be in error, to place the error plainly in the record that a correction may be had in the Supreme court. That I have endeavored to do.

No class of people so intimately know the anxieties and trials incident to the judicial office as the members of the bar. They are learned in the law; they are capable of correct judgment, and they are the critics upon every decision of the court. The entire duties of the court are performed at the instance of the profession; and they, of all men, know whether the law is administered in its purity, according to the rules governing the case.

These are some of the reasons why I cannot convey to you in this letter my feelings of gratitude in approval of the rectitude of my official life. Your interests in the judiciary are the interests of your clients. The interest of the client in the correct decision of the case is in the hands of the Judge. If the Judge were to decide the case influenced in his judgment by any other consideration than the law of the land, life, liberty and property would be unsafe; while the Judge himself would be unworthy of the high office he holds.

This district is composed of two counties, containing a population of about 80,000 people. All the litigation arising in the district must pass before the Judge for his determination. It is, therefore, certainly plain that the burden is great; and he who keeps this work from accumulating on his hands has but few idle days to spend. It has required nearly ten years to dispose of special cases in which I was concerned in Centre county, but these have now all been tried or settled, except, perhaps, one or two. Hereafter there will be but little necessity for special courts in this district.

While I have had the benefit of the last ten years upon the Bench, I still feel that I have much yet to learn. If, however, I have retained the confidence of the people of this district in the rectitude of my motives and of my official life, I am willing to be a candidate for re-election, with the promise that, if elected, I will endeavor to discharge my duty, impartially and with ever present sense of my responsibility to the Supreme Judge of all.

Thanking you again, I remain, gentlemen, your obedient servant,

A. O. FURST.

DEATH AT CENTRE HALL.

Magdaline, wife of J. W. Whiteman, of this place, died on Tuesday morning at 3 o'clock. The deceased had been ill for upwards of two years, and in the past year was bedfast. She was patient under her affliction and had the hope of a Christian that a better life was in store for her. She was a daughter of Daniel Luce, of Gregg township, and years ago became a member of the Lutheran church of which she continued a consistent member.

Mrs. Whiteman was esteemed by her neighbors, and her husband is bereft of a faithful companion. She was a sister of D. F. and A. P. Luce, of this place, and of Cyrus Luce, of Tyrone.

She was 45 years 3 months and 12 days of age. Interment on Thursday, at the Union church, her earlier home. She leaves a husband, but no children, to mourn her loss.—Centre Hall Reporter.

—On Thursday evening, while going out Water street, when in the vicinity of Ardell's office, a well known young lady of this place was suddenly seized by a rough-appearing man, choked and violently thrown down. Fortunately, the appearance of another person about that time frightened the ruffian who fled. The young lady was not in the least injured and was able to make her way home.

DIED IN YORK.

Dr. Charles H. Bressler died in York Thursday morning of a stroke of paralysis, which he received a few weeks ago. The deceased was born at Mill Hall, being a son of Hon. George Bressler. Afterwards he was a resident of Bellefonte, where he practiced dentistry many years. While in this borough he and Miss Sarah Tonner, daughter of John Tonner, were married. Later in life he removed to York, where he has resided ever since. He was 73 years old. He is survived by three daughters and four sons. He was a member of the M. E. church and of the Masonic fraternity. His funeral will take place in York Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

OIL AS FUEL ON THE OCEAN.

A few months ago a naval officer or contractor, in a magazine article, expressed the belief that the day would come when liquid fuel could be used on the warships, and dwelt at length on the advantages of it, as in the saving of space and time in coaling.

The day will come sooner, perhaps, than he supposed. Yesterday the first steamer to cross the ocean with liquid fuel arrived at Philadelphia. She is a British oil carrier and her fuel was petroleum residuum. The consumption of this was 20 tons every 24 hours, while of coal it would have been 30 tons. As the residuum is heavier than coal these figures indicate the space which could be saved by the use of this fuel, and the time saved in coaling might be easily guessed. It was burned in the usual fashion, with a jet of steam, and while the heat was intense it was evenly distributed, and the combustion seemed to be perfect.

It is probable that though this residuum served its purpose well enough on a slow going freighter, it might not do so on a fast passenger vessel or on a warship. But while that may be true, it is true also that an important step has been taken toward the ocean fuel of the future. The difficulties which remain in the using of petroleum as fuel on all ocean steamers will be overcome in due time. It is not at all likely that the experiments made with petroleum years ago by naval authorities exhausted the possibilities of it as fuel

THE PRIVATE SOLDIER.

We give below an extract from a response by Comrade James T. Owen, of Tyrone, to the toast, "The Private Soldier," at the twenty-first annual banquet of the Fifteenth Penn's Cavalry at Philadelphia on the 15th of last November, in which he expresses a sentiment too much lost sight of, the merits of the private soldier, their being a great disposition to enlarge upon the efforts of the officers and discount those of the private:

"The private soldier will never be understood. We have learned to night that our colonel has been awarded a medal at Wasington, and although that reflects honor upon us, we do not get any of that honor; we feel that we have the honor, but we get no honor in public estimation. I believe that many a battle has been won through the individual soldier doing something for which the colonel or general would get the credit; many a battle won by some deed of bravery of the private soldier, or something suggested by him to the officer. I have acted as orderly to General Rosecrans and General Thomas and know of suggestions made to the General—not directly, but through his subordinate officers—which when followed out have led to victory.

MEEK IS VERY MEEK.

Thursday's Philadelphia Press says:—Senator P. Gray Meek, of Bellefonte, who has just been named by the President as Surveyor of the Port of Philadelphia, put in an appearance yesterday at the Lafayette with his ulster buttoned up closely about the neck, as if the atmosphere in his county for the past day or two was somewhat chilly. When asked about his appointment he was as a maid of 14, and thought it would not be in good taste to discuss the probabilities until after his confirmation.

As to his successor for Senatorial honors, he intimated that there was lots of good material left in his district for Senatorial timber, and the choice of Centre County was his choice. After his great coat was removed he seemed to thaw out a little, and remarked that he had learned more of the election results since he arrived in the city, even about his own county, than he did at home. "For, while it is like a Spring day in the city," said he," not even a politicial chill observable; up in my county in some of the mountain sections there is twelve feet of snow along the snow drifted roads," and with a merry twinkle of the eye he added, "that may account for the light Democratic vote that was polled.

A $100,000 FIRE.

WATERBURY, Conn., February 22.—A fire which broke out at 2 o'clock this morning totally destroyed the big dry goods house of Conlon Brothers in the heart of this city and swept away the dry goods store of Miller & Peck, one of the oldest in the state. The Miller & Peck building was almost entirely burned. The Arcade building, occupied from top to bottom by Conlon Brothers was built in 1848, and its destruction removes a land mark. Conlon Brothers carried about $60,000 worth of stock. Nothing remains but the front walls of Miller & Peck's store. The carried about $100,000 worth of goods. Of this, not one-tenth can be saved. Insured for $60,000.

—A bashful Justice of the Peace, not a thousand miles from here, being called upon to marry a blushing couple, thought it proper to quote some scripture in addition to the usual formula. He ransacked his brain for some thing appropriate, and then said: "Suffer little children to come unto you, for of such is the kingdom of heaven."

BEATEN TO DEATH.

An Aged Farmer and His Housekeeper Brutally Murdered.

MONTICELLO, N. Y., February 23.—Sullivan county, after a lapse of six months, is again called upon to chronicle a double murder, which for atrocity and ghastliness, is unequalled in the history of Sullivan county crime. The victims of this terrible tragedy are Jacob A Moore and Mrs. Jane Raymond, his housekeeper, two aged residents of Bushville, five miles north of Monticello. Mr. Moore was 85 and Mrs. Raymond was 90 years of age.

The crime was discovered by William Beebe at 10 o'clock this morning. The old couple were evidently preparing to retire for the night when the assassin did his work, as Mr. Moore had removed his boots, and the shavings and dry wood which are the last act of a farmer's duty before going to bed, were placed in their accustomed place. Under the left ear of the aged man was found a pistol wound. A huge stick of wood was lying on the ground at the outside of the door, covered with blood, and his person evidence that it had been used very freely over his head and shoulders. The room was in a state of great confusion. Blood was spilled freely and the whole place bore the evidence that the terrible struggle for life had taken place. Mrs Raymond presented a most ghastly and sickening spectacle. She had evidently tried to aid the old gentleman and was struck down by the assassin before she could be of service. Her face was terribly mutilated and her neck was cut in several places to the bone. A common barn shovel was used as the instrument of death.

John Morton, coroner of Monticello, was notified and will hold an inquest on the bodies to-morrow. No cause for the crime can be assinged unless it is that the old man had only a few days previous drawn a quarterly pension of $45 from the government for service as a soldier of the civil war.

GOOD ADVICE.

Every patriotic citizen should give his personal effort and influence to increase the circulation of his home paper which teaches the American policy of Protection. It is his duty to aid in this respect in every way possible. After the home paper is taken care of, why not subscribe for the AMERICAN ECONOMIST, published by the American Protective Tariff League? One of its correspondents says: "No true American can get along without it. I consider it the greatest and truest political teacher in the United States."

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps provided for our breakfast and supper a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with boiling water or milk. Prof. HARRIS' SOLUBLE MEDICATED Pastille

THE PASTILLE CURE FOR NERVOUS DEBILITY TRADE MARK

Has been put up in a proprietary form since 1878, and has been used for years prior to that time in private practice. It is no untried nostrum, of doubtful reputation, but a genuine specific for a very prevalent disease. Thousands of men, of all ages, have at some time in life brought on nervous debility and exhaustion, with organic weakness, by over brain work, excesses, too frequent indulgence or indiscretion and vicious habits, and it is to these that we offer a remedy that will, by its direct action upon the seat of the disease, stop the drain and restore the patient to vigorous health and strength.

Our method of introducing Prof. Harris' Pastille treatment is one which commends itself to all sensible persons—for the reason that we supply it upon their judgment of its value. We ask of our patrons nothing in the way of expense beyond a postal card and a two cent postage stamp. The postal card to be used in sending us their full address and the postage stamp for the letter returning the statement of their case for which we supply them with a question blank, to be filled out, and an envelope addressed to ourselves for use in returning it when filled.

FREE TRIAL PACKAGE. When we receive the statement on blank we prepare eight days' treatment and forward it by mail and prepay postage thereon—and along with the eight days' treatment we send full directions for using. The treatment in no way interferes with a person's attention to business, and causes no pain or inconvenience in any way.

We are so positive that it will give perfect satisfaction that we leave the matter of sending orders entirely with those using the free trial treatment. Having satisfied those sending for trial packages of our ability to benefit their sexual condition we feel that they are more largely interested than ourselves in continuing the use of the Pastilles. Even then we do not attempt to rob them by demanding high prices. On the contrary, we make the prices as low as possible, and the same to all. They are as follows: $3 for one month; $5 for two months; $7 for three months.

Trade Mark. SHAPE & SIZE OF A REGULAR PASTILLE

These prices secure the delivery of the Pastilles by mail. If desired by express we leave the patient to pay the charges. For over ten years we have operated our business upon this plan with satisfactory results.

We ask all persons needing treatment for any of the secret ills which come to mankind through a violation of nature's laws to send us their address on postal card or by letter and allow us to convince them that PROF. HARRIS' SOLUBLE MEDICATED PASTILLES have merit and are what they need.

AVERTED BY TIMELY DISCOVERY.

A Brother of the Late Hon. Charles S. Wolfe in the Role of an Incendiary.

LEWISBURG, Pa., Feb. 22.—By a timely discovery a great explosion and fire was averted late last night. Smoke was seen issuing from the basement of the business block belonging to the estate of the late Hon. Charles S. Wolfe. An examination of the premises revealed the work of an incendiary. Nailed against the joists in the cellar was discovered a large box, from which a cloud of smoke arose. It was knocked down and carried into the street, where it was found upon examination to be a sort of infernal machine, containing a bottle of powder, saturated cotton and other combustibles.

Early in the evening an elder brother of the late Mr. Wolfe, known about town as "Jimmy," who claims to have been defrauded when that gentleman's estate was settled, was seen entering the cellar carrying a box. To-day he was arrested at Milton, brought to Lewisburg, and after a hearing was sent to jail. He had threatened to kill the executor and attorney of his brother's estate. There was much excitement on the street as the prisoner was being taken to jail.

GOOD FOR ADMIRAL BENHAM!

Admiral Benham knows his flag, his country and his duty.

The convoy which he gave an English merchantman in Rio harbor yesterday, when the luckless English sailor sought to fill his water butts and his own admiral declined an escort, simply carried a step farther the policy we have been developing in the waters of this hemisphere that local internecine broils shall not be allowed to interfere with neutral trade. The principle is sound. Our fleets can enforce it and they ought to enforce it. The police of American seas is the first duty of the American navy.

Every step in this direction excludes foreign influence, increases the respect given our flag and the weight given our advice. The perpetual revolutions of South American countries will become less profitable and hence less frequent when their operations are exclusively confined to land and no interference with neutral trade permitted. In time, our fleet will require ports to be kept open and foreign merchants and warehouses to be unmolested in revolution. When this is done a great step toward the peace and prosperity of our southern neighbors will have been secured.

Meanwhile, there will be a sharp question asked in Parliament to-day about the English admiral and every American will tingle with pride that his flag is playing its fit part of peaceful protector to peaceful commerce under all flags in American waters.

TIME TO END IT.

The fatal ending of what was planned to be a barbarous practical joke, at Cornell University, ought to be the last reminder needed that College students are not to be either fools or brutes. The first essential step toward that end is the stern enforcement of the law in this case. We shall, of course, hear of the agony of grief which effects the guilty ones in this homicide. Involuntary manslaughter, murder even, is usually followed by sorrowful regret. But that does not bring back the dead to life, nor remit the penalty. The whole practice of hazing in colleges, whether directed against individuals or classes, is an abomination, an unmanly, brutal, cowardly business, and the sooner young men are taught that it will no longer be tolerated the better.

A CARD OF THANKS.

LEMONT, Centre County, Pa., Feb. 22, 1894.—The undersigned desires to express his heartfelt thanks for the many manifestations of kindness and the great interest shown by the fellow employes and shopmates of his son who met such an untimely death while at his work in the Altoona shops on January 11. The substantial gift of money from his fellow workmen for the use of his widow and orphan daughter will be judiciously applied, and this, together with the many kindly offices performed, will go far toward alleviating present suffering and will always be remembered with our sincerest thanks. W. H. MOKLE.

ALL HOPE GIVEN UP.

WILKESBARRE, Feb. 22.—The rescuers in the Gaylord shaft are now working under great difficulties, another cave-in being threatened from the head of the slope. The roof over the place where the men are now at work is 20 feet high, and it is impossible to prop it so as to insure safety.

There was a slight cave-in at the head of the slop to-day, but it did not cause much damage. Later on there was a cave-in of more serious proportions, but the mine owners will not admit that it is going to stope the work of the rescuing party. There seems to be but little hope, however, of recovering the bodies within the next ten days.

AN UNUSUAL COMPLIMENT.

In an editorial the Huntingdon Journal says: The letter to Hon. A. O. Furst, President Judge of this district, from twenty two members of the Bar of this county, and all of the county officers, asking him to be a candidate for re-election, is an unusual compliment and one which the people of the county will recognize as well merited. There are few Judges who could receive from the attorneys who practice before them such a nearly unanimous endorsement as has been given Judge Furst, and it will practically settle the question of his renomination and re-election.

If he had not, during his ten years of service on the Bench in this county, given unquestionable evidence that he posesses all the requisites of his high and responsible position, he could not, of course, have received this endorsement. He has presided in the courts with marked ability, has shown a thorough and ready knowledge of the law, and a wonderful facility and correctness in its application to the case in point. Not less important than this, he is conscientiously and scrupulously honest and impartial. In his rulings and decisions he keeps constantly and solely in view the question of justice between parties and administers the law with reference to that consideration and that alone.

Judge Furst, in his reply to the letter of the attorneys and county officials, consents to be a candidate again. It may be assumed that this assures him the support of his county and that he will be renominated without opposition. He will be supported by the people of the district without regard to party.

HASTINGS ENDORSED.

The latest acquisition of delegates for our townsman, General D. H. Hastings, comes from Chester county. In instructing the delegates the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, General Daniel H. Hastings, by his many virtues, his devotion to the best interests of the State, his services in the cause of humanity at Johnstown, his conspicuous ability in public and private life, and his honorable public career, has endeared himself to the Republicans of Chester county and made him their unanimous choice for Governor of this Great Commonwealth; therefore, this Convention, in obedience to that sentiment, heartily endorse his candidacy, and instruct our Delegates, this day chosen, to urge his selection as our standard bearer for Governor by the Republican State Convention, and to use all honorable efforts to accomplish that end, and we call upon all the Republicans of the State to co-operate with us in making this true and tried statesman their candidate in the next Gubernatorial contest.

WAS NOT ON FIRE.

Altoona Gazette.

An old man got on a Logan Valley car this morning to take what was evidently his first trip on an electrically heated car and sat down directly over one of the heaters. He had on a light weight overcoat and shivered with the cold when he looked around and discovered no stove in the car. It was soon observed that the man was becoming uneasy and nervous. This condition increased until he put his head down almost to the floor to ascertain where the heat came from. When he raised his head again a smile of mingled surprise, relief and wonder crept over his weather beaten countenance. He had discovered that the car was not on fire.

THE WORKING GIRL.

Miss Sallie Palmer Gives Some Suggestions to Girls About Backache, Faintness, and Dizziness.

(SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.)

Did you ever notice working girls on their way home from stores or factories?

Did you notice how many of them had pale cheeks, dull eyes, and heavy steps? and did you wonder why they were not ruddy and bright?

The story which is told by Miss Sallie Palmer, of Nicetown, Pa., gives the reason for this sad condition of many working girls.

Sometimes their back and sides will ache terribly. They are faint and dizzy with pain and weight in the lower part of their stomach. They watch the clock, and wish that the day would end, as they feel so ill and tired.

Standing all day, week in and week out, they have slowly drifted into woman's great enemy, displacement of the womb. That, or some other derangement of the organ, causes irregularity or suspension of the "monthly periods," bloating, flooding, or nervous prostration.

"Take warning in time," she says; "Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the surest and safest remedy in the world for you."

HICKS ON MARCH WEATHER.

He Repeats His Warnings of a Hard and Stormy Month.

In the current issue of Word and Works Rev. Irl R. Hicks makes these prognostications on March weather. We begin with a repetition of our warnings of a hard and stormy March. About the 3rd the beginning of a storm period will show itself in westerly regions, by a falling barometer and rising temperature. The winds will shift to southerly—the thermometer will continue to rise and the barometer to fall until both extremes are reached, and until general and violent storms develop and start on their eastward career. The first storm period would end, under normal conditions, about the 7th, but the new moon falling on that date, and the combined disturbing powers of Mars, Earth and Venus being so near the crisis, a series of hard and dangerous storms will most likely centre about the 7th, with continued storminess past the reactionary disturbances, central on the 8th and 9th. During all these disturbances there will be violent conflicts between the tropical and polar storms, with heavy rains and strong probabilities of tornadoes in many places—especially southward, and turning to blizzards and snow blockades in more northerly regions. Sudden and extreme cold must be expected and preparations made for it in the rear of these storms, or surprise and suffering are sure to result. On and touching March 11th is the annual crisis for magnetism and electrical perturbations.

The 14th is the center of the next regular period. A day or two previous to that date indications in westerly parts of the continent will plainly show that energetic storms are brewing. Watch the temperature, the weather reports, your own barometer and the clouds. During 13th to 17th, the storms will reach their crisis and make their sweep from the western to the eastern extremes of our continent. At the close of storm, each section in its turn will be struck by a polar wave of great severity, for the season. Centering on the 20th, 21st and 22d, we have the full moon with partial eclipse of same, the equinoctial centers of mercury, earth, venus, vulcan's reactionary disturbances, and the direct pressure of the Mars equinox which is central on February 28th. He who will carefully read our chapter on "Foundation Facts" in our almanac, will understand our reasons for admonishing the public of great probable danger at this time on land and sea. Unless this unusual centering of so many disturbing forces, right at the vernal equinox, shall have neutralizing, balancing effects that we do not foresee or understand, much violent phenomena is sure to result. Expect cyclonic storms of great extent, resulting in tornadic features along the southern tangents, and blizzards to the north, all to be followed by a general cold wave that will be felt to the coast of Florida. Earthquake perturbations and volcanic eruptions, will be natural, but not necessarily dangerous or fatal. The last storm period for March will run from 25th to 29th, inclusive, and the storms of this period will show the same characteristics as those of earlier periods of the month. Where March storms culminate in very high temperature, heavy hail with thunder and lightning may be looked for. The month will close cold and fair generally.

THE AURORA BOREALIS.

One of the most brilliant displays of the "northern lights" seen for a long time was observable in the heavens Friday night from ten to half-past eleven o'clock. The phenomena was of the billowy illumination, apparently rolling in waves from northeast to south of east. Those who failed to see it missed one of the grandest displays of recent times.

EDWARD T. TUTEN.

Local Department.

—Spring fashions are being discussed.

—Faith in the groundhog has been revived.

—Winter shows a disposition to intrude on spring.

—More wedding bells are beginning to tinkle in the distance.

—Buy a ticket for McCabe's lecture next Saturday evening.

—Every man has a show in life, but few of them find it a circus.

—This is proving excellent ice weather and everybody seems to be taking advantage of it.

—Two counties of California export more than 6,000,000 pounds of honey every year.

—The corrected time table of the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania appears in to-day's paper. Read it.

—There was an incipient fire at the Bellefonte Steam Laundry this morning, but it amounted to nothing.

—The groundhog is proving himself quite as good a weather prognosticator as some of the two legged prophets.

—The dentist can hardly lay claim to originality. He is all the time taking things out of other people's mouths.

—G. W. Musser, of Filmore, made an address before the farmers' institute at Marklesburg, Blair county, last week.

—Fifty-five properties will be sold by the sheriff of Blair county on March 9th. Verily, times must be hard in that locality.

—Arrangements for the concert in the Presbyterian church are progressing finely and the event promises to be a great success.

—Let everybody in this community stand together and support home industries. If we all do this there will be more prosperity.

—W. S. Montgomery, of Muncy, has been appointed division collector for Lycoming county by Revenue Collector Grant Herring.

—Tickets to the G. A. R. convention at Philadelphia are on sale at P. R. R. stations until March 2nd, good until the 5th, at one fare for the round trip.

—The grain fields throughout the southern portion of Centre County present a very good appearance, and promise a large crop of the cereal next harvest.

—Isn't it funny how certain streets on Bellefonte will become the favorite promenades on certain evenings? But such is the capriciousness of humanity.

—A siding has been put in from the turntable of the Central railroad to the Electric Light station, and now that company gets its coal right from the car.

—Grover Cleveland has gone duck shooting and the half dozen or so aspirants for the Bellefonte postoffice can now take a breathing spell for a few days.

—The Junior Epworth Leaguers will hold an entertainment in the Sunday school room of the Methodist church, to-morrow evening. The public in general is invited.

—We are sorry to be obliged to record the death of the infant and only child of Dr. and Mrs. James Wasson, which occurred at their home at Spruce Creek on Tuesday.

—Sunday morning was almost as cold as Saturday but during the day it moderated and Sunday night snowed. This continued most all of this forenoon until about five inches had fallen.

—The United States mail is now being carried in closed pouches through Nittany Valley by the Central Railroad company. The residents of that valley now have the advantage of two mails a day.

—A Bloomsburg woman, the story runs, locked up her pretty daughter to prevent her from marrying the young man of her choice. The girl climbed out of the window, and got married just the same.

—How things do change. Some time ago a liveryman in Howard charged $2 for a team to Nittany Hall and return. Now, the same man will hitch up and drive to Nittany Hall and back for a Shilling and pay eight cents toll.

—The Christian Endeavor Society will hold a dime social in the chapel adjoining the Presbyterian church to-morrow (Thursday) evening. It will be an event in the history of that organization and everybody is cordially invited.

—A special from Scranton says that "Roberts, of the River League last year." has been signed by the ball club of that place as a catcher. That must mean our own "Billy" Soper, but that gentleman says the report is not correct.

—Special return trains will be run over both the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania to Mill Hall and the Bellefonte Central to State College, next Saturday evening, on the occasion of Chaplain McCabe's lecture in the M. E. church. The train on the Bald Eagle valley will also be held until 9.15 o'clock to enable persons attending from down the valley to return home the same evening.

FUNERAL OF CYRUS GOSS.

Laid to Rest Sunday Afternoon at Pine Grove Mills.

How sad, indeed, is death! But seemingly thrice sadder is the consigning of all that is mortal to the cold embrace of the tomb, where for time and eternity they shall remain hidden from the eyes of those who loved them best. And to its fullest measure was this demonstrated on Sunday when the remains of the late Cyrus Goss were laid to rest in the quiet little cemetery at Pine Grove Mills.

As soon as news of the death of Mr. Goss was received in this place, Messrs. S. M. Buck and Mortimer Donohue, representing Constans Commandery, No. 33, Knights Templar, and Bellefonte Lodge, No. 268, Free and Accepted Masons, in which deceased was a member of good standing, went to Altoona and made every arrangement necessary for the funeral. The body was embalmed and enclosed in a black cloth covered casket, on which was a silver plate bearing the inscription, "Father;" Saturday the remains were shipped to Pennsylvania Furnace where they were taken in charge by undertaker Heberling, of Pine Grove, and conveyed to the residence of Mrs. Goss' mother, Mrs. Ard, who lives in that village.

Sunday, at 10.10 o'clock a. m., a special train left Bellefonte over the Bellefonte Central railroad bearing near thirty members of the Bellefonte Lodge, and a few other friends of the deceased, among whom was a NEWS representative, making a total of thirty three, on their way to the funeral. They were met at Struble's station by conveyances and driven from there to their destination. The funeral services were held promptly at 12.30 o'clock in the Presbyterian church, which was crowded with friends who came to pay the last mark of respect to one whom all loved and admired. Rev. Black, of the Reformed church, Boalsburg, officiated, assisted by Rev. Illingsworth, the M. E. pastor at State College, and Rev. C. T. Aikens, of the Pine Grove Lutheran church. Rev. Black preached a most impressive sermon from the text found in Job 14: 14—"If a man die, shall he live again?" From the church the remains were carried to the cemetery just in the rear and there laid to rest. At the grave the Masonic burial service, one of the most beautiful and impressive possible to conceive, was gone through with, being performed by Past Grand Master Wilbur F. Reeder and Deputy Grand Master W. I. Fleming. The only floral offering was a large and exquisite pedestal of flowers representing the emblem of the F. and A M's, the square being composed of carnations and the triangle of yellow roses, all interwoven on a background of ivy leaves. This was secured from Harry Chaapel, of Williamsport. The following Sir Knights, in full regalia, acted as pall bearers: John P. Harris, S. M. Buck, A. C. Mingle, Geo. B. Johnston, John Olewine and George Brew. In addition to the Bellefonte Lodge large deputations were present from the Centre Hall and Boalsburg Lodges. The Bellefonte party arrived home at four o'clock.

THE SWEET SINGER OF LIBBY.

Chaplain C. C. McCabe, will be in Bellefonte over next Sabbath and on Saturday evening will deliver his greatest of lectures, "The Bright Side of Life in Libby," in the Methodist church. Every person in Bellefonte and nearby, who has ever had the pleasure of hearing Mr. McCabe, will want to attend this lecture; and those who never have heard him, should make it a point to be present or they will miss the chance of a lifetime. There are few men in this world who are so gifted and well able to hold an audience to the highest pitch of interest as Mr. McCabe. To hear him sing one song is worth the price of admission to anyone. The church should be crowded to its utmost capacity, and it doubtless will be as the price of admission has been put within the reach of all, only 50 and 35 cents.

HOW HE RETALIATED.

"Please pay your postage when you write to me" is the request that appears on an old letter found among the old papers now being assorted by ex-Clerk Ellery McNaul says the Lock Haven Democrat. The letter was written before the days of stamps or stamped envelopes and was written by J. W. Quiggle, the then clerk for the county commissioner, to A. G. Curtin, of Bellefonte. Mr. Curtin, for a joke it seems, made Mr. Quiggle pay the postage on a letter which he had sent that gentleman, and Mr. Quiggle by way of retaliation wrote on the outside the foregoing. The letter was written as far back as June 7, 1842, and the venerable statesman now at Bellefonte will no doubt call to mind this little bit of pleasantry that he enjoyed with his old friend.

L. L. BROWN A DELEGATE.

A special to the Johnstown Tribune from Ebensburg of yesterday says:

"The republican county convention was called to order at 1 o'clock this afternoon by Chairman Taylor. All but three districts were represented. F. H. Barker, of Ebensburg, was elected president, and Ed. R. Stewart, of Conemaugh, and E. F. Spencer, of Hastings, secretaries. The convention instructed for General Hastings, for governor; Walter Lyon, for lieutenant governor, and Major Isaac B. Brown, of Erie, for secretary of internal affairs. Messrs F. H. Pidgeon, of Gallitzin; L. L. Brown, of Hastings, and E. H. Kinkead, of Johnstown, were elected delegates to the state convention. The convention also declared for Hon. Josiah D. Hicks for congress, with power to choose his own conferrees."

ANOTHER FREE CONCERT.

The second public recital of the Bellefonte Musical Association (Meyers' Orchestra and the Bellefonte Band) will be held Thursday evening, March 8th, in their hall, in Centre County bank building. The first recital was a success in every way, and the next one will be still better. The numbers for the Band and Orchestra are exceptionally good, and several new features have been introduced. A pleasant evening's entertainment is assured. Following is the program in full:

These concerts are being given for the enjoyment of the music-lovers of Bellefonte, and "the boys" would like to see everyone present who enjoys listening to good music. No admission is charged, but a collection will be taken up to help defray expenses. So come, everybody, and bring your friends along.

WHAT IS IN STORE FOR US.

W. T. Foster, the western weather prophet, makes these predictions: "One of the severest storm periods of recent years will prevail over the United States and Canada from March 7 to April 13. In many parts of the country unusually heavy rains, or snow, will fall and floods may be expected. Seven principal low-barometers or storm centers will cross the continent within that period, moving eastward. Tornadoes may be expected in those parts frequented by these destroyers. Temperature will go to great extremes and frosts will damage early crops far southward. Electric storms will precede and severe cold waves follow some of these blows. Those crossing the continent from March 7 to 11, 12 to 16, 18 to 24, 25 to 28 and April 4 to 8, should be carefully watched."

SMALLPOX DYING OUT.

The Tyrone Herald says: It is reasonably believed that the smallpox has been effectually stayed and that there is little further danger of an epidemic here. No new cases have appeared at Tyrone Forges for nearly three weeks, and the afflicted ones there are all rapidly recovering. The inspectors and physicians have agreed that it will be perfectly safe to lift the quarantine partially on Monday, and after that day the restrictions will be taken from the Tyrone forge district, except the houses in which the disease is still present. Families in which smallpox has been prevailing will still be under quarantine for some time.

THREE BROTHERS IN LUCK.

Last Tuesday was a great day for the Arney family. On that day three of them were elected to office in Centre county after all one of them, Mr. Frank Arney, had additional good fortune, as thus related in the Centre Hall Reporter: "Tuesday was a lucky day for Frank Arney, and was a point in his career that he will likely remember. His wife presented him with a son and he was elected tax collector. Fortunes, like misfortunes, never come singly." John S. Arney was chosen overseer of the poor and B. H. Arney, auditor. It was glory enough for one day.

AN HONORABLE OFFICE.

Ex-Governor James A. Beaver was elected a town councilman in Bellefonte Tuesday. The late lamented Ex Governor William Bigler, when elected a school director of Clearfield, a few days ago before his death, in a speech before the teachers' institute, said: "I have served several terms in both the upper and lower houses of this state, been twice United States senator and Governor of Pennsylvania, but I take more pride and feel more honor in the office I now hold than any previous ones."—Williamsport Sun.

"THE CURSE OF CLIFTON,"

Is one of the latest works of Mrs. E. D. E. N. Southworth and, although the extermination of so many of the principal characters may not strike the fancy of the poetic novel reader, yet the plot is strong and exceedingly well interwoven; the object intended is perhaps more vividly portrayed than in any of Mrs. Southworth's other writings and, on the whole the book is one of the most fascinating and interesting we have read for some time. It is published by M. J. Ivers & Co., New York. Price, in paper cover, 50 cents.

HOWARD STATISTICS.

A resident of Howard has taken the trouble to make the following computation: In the borough there are between six and seven hundred people. Of this number 16 are between 70 and 94 years of age and 63 are between 60 and 70 years of age. There are also 23 widows and 18 widowers resident there.

G. A. MEMORIAL SERVICES.

Held in Gregg Post Rooms on Sunday Afternoon.

In these days of peace and happiness, when the present and rising generations know noting of the terrors and hardships of war only what they gather from history and hear from the lips of the old soldier who fought in that death struggle of thirty years ago, do we ever stop to ask whether proper respect and veneration is paid to the living and the dead heroes? Well may the answer be given "No!" and shame unto all that it needs must be so recorded. But while the younger generation may be lax in this respect, which is probably more through thoughtlessness than with purpose intent, the old soldier never forgets a comrade. Living, he is honored and respected; dead, his name is memorialized and held sacred. And for this latter purpose was the holding of the services Sunday afternoon.

The hall was fittingly draped and arranged and the large semi-circle of draped chairs in front of the Commander's desk answered the two-fold question, that some time had passed since such services were held by this Post and how fast the old comrades are passing away. A glance at the chairs showed the following list: Hickman J. Ingram Samuel S. Hines, Geo. W. Rodgers, William H. Humes, Austin Snyder, John O. McKinley, Bond Valentine, Michael Runkle, David H. Swires, Augustus H. Cox, James Fulton, Edward H. Barry, Henry D. Showers, John Walters and James H. Rankin, almost twenty per cent. of the members of the Post.

The comrades were called to order by Commander Thomas Donachy and the services opened by the choir, composed of A. Lukenbach, C. C. Shuey, Walter Whippo and Geo. L. Smith, singing the hymn, "Gathering Home," The Adjutant then read the records of the above-named departed veterans and the Commander ordered that the same be placed in the archives of the Post.

This was followed by the reading of a scripture lesson by the comrades, after which there was another hymn by the choir. The comrades then formed a circle around the draped chairs and together repeated the Lord's Prayer, which was followed with a chant by the choir and the reading of the 90th Psalm. The choir then sang "We will never say goodbye," after which Hon. John G. Love was introduced and he, in his usual eloquent way, delivered a most touching and impressive memorial address. The choir sang the Doxology and the closing formula was gone through with by the Commander and comrades. It was a beautiful service, a fitting tribute, and was witnessed by a large audience.

AMONG THE STUDENTS.

Monday afternoon's rhetorical exercises in the Bellefonte High School began with a song entitled, "Sing to Me Mother," rendered by the school. This was followed by a lengthy program of leterary exercises, as follows:

Essay, "Peaches," John Larimer.

Recitation, Kitty Heylmun.
Essay, "The Story of the Fox and the Grapes," Fannie Elmore.
Essay, "America," Isabella Taylor.
Essay, "The English Language," Louisa Kellerman.
Essay, "Feasts of the Year," Gertie Dolan.
Song, "Traveling the Highway to Learning," by the School.

Directors Charles Smith and David Bartley were present and added greatly to the afternoon's pleasures. Miss Mattie Faxon and Clarence Harper deserve special mention for their excellent work.

A POINTER FOR THE BOARD.

The following advertisement appeared in Sunday's Philadelphia Press:

"Shoe Factory will remove to country town upon conditions. P 253, Press Office." Here is a pointer for the Bellefonte Board of Trade. A shoe factory in Bellefonte would be just the thing, and would doubtless pay as well here as anywhere else. Why not investigate and see what is in it?

WINTER'S EXPIRING EFFORT.

The prospect is that March will come in like a lamb. The spell of weather just over seemed to have been intended for the lion-like entrance of that stormy month, but got in ahead of time. The temperature has risen in the Northwest and the warm wave rolling on will last till spring has come. It may be that the wish was father to the thought, but the thought has been that Saturday's piercing cold was winter's expiring effort. A multitude which can hardly be numbered hope it is true, for the multitude have now less to live on in comfort than at any previous time this winter. Their stocks are exhausted as well as those of the manufacturer and merchant.

Mr. L. A. Schaeffer and J. C. Meyer, Esq., of this place, and Mr. W. A. Stewart, of State College, were visitors in Lock Haven on Friday.

Miss Mary Evans, of Williamsport, is a guest at the residence of Mrs. Margaret Hutchinson, on East Howard street. To-day both ladies are enjoying a trip to State College.

Miss Sallie Baum, the pleasant and courteous clerk in Garman's store, has gone to Princeton, Ind., to take a like position in a store which her brother-in-law, N. Reisman, has opened.

Internal Revenue Collector Herring, while in Harrisburg a few days ago, stated that in a few days he would appoint Democratic successors to the Republican officials in this district.

During the absence of Dr. George W. Atherton in Mexico, Prof. William H. Buckhout will be acting President of the State College. Dr. Atherton will return in time for the commencement exercises in June.

The Tyrone Herald says: Ex-Governor Andrew Gregg Curtin and E. C. Humes, president of the First National Bank of Bellefonte, took in the beauties and surroundings of the new Blair county bank in this place on Thursday.

Mr. George T. Bush, who was in Louisville, Ky., attending the national convention League of American Wheelmen, returned home Thursday evening. George says he had a rattling good time, the only drawback to the place being the scarcity of water.

Dr. George W. Atherton, President of the Pennsylvania State College, passed through town on Thursday for New York whence he will sail for Galveston, Texas, and thence he will go to Mexico by rail. His trip is purely for recreation and will last several months.

Mr. J. C. Bathgate, of near Lemont, came to Bellefonte Thursday to spend Washington's birthday. He celebrated it at Gregg Post rooms and the ladies up there filled him so full of the good things they had that Cal. forgot to go home until it was too late and, in consequence, he went back to the rooms for the evening entertainment and then spent the night in town.

About forty years ago Mr. Thos Evans, a young man living at Spring Mills, left for a visit to the West. He engaged in business, got married, settled down as a master mechanic at Monroe, Wis. He is now making his first visit to his old home in Pennsvalley. On Wednesday, in company with his nephew, Mr. James B. Strohm, he was taking in the sights of Bellefonte.

Among the Centre county G. A. R. men who will be present at the State Convention in Philadelphia March 1st and 2nd are S. H. Williams and Thomas Donachy, of Gregg Post, Bellefonte; W. H. Musser, Austin Curtin and J. Miles Green, of Geo. L. Potter Post, Milesburg; John Ward, of Stormstown; John Stewart, of State College, and W. H. Fry, of Pine Grove Mills. They will figure among the representative Pennsylvanians present during the convention. Most all the above departed this morning over the Lewisburg road, and will reach Philadelphia by three o'clock this afternoon.

Ripans Tabules are always ready.

THE SENIORS BANQUET.

The Class of '94 of the State College Give Their Farewell Banquet

The fourth annual banquet of the class of '94 of the State College came off under the most favorable auspices in the spacious dining hall of the Fallon House, Friday evening, Feb. 23d, says the Lock Haven Express. The class came down in the afternoon train from Bellefonte, twenty strong and registered at the hotel. From there they started out to amuse themselves till 10.00 o'clock, the time set for assembling round the festive board. Quite a number of them attended the Literary Society meetings at the Normal School and enjoyed themselves highly.

Promptly at the hour appointed the sumptuous feast was set out by Mine Host Schuyler, and with a copious flow of wit and jollity the students discussed an elaborate menu of good things.

Singing was indulged in and the class yell given in the intervals between courses. The class represents some of the best blood of the college and every man is a true college man so that fun waxed fast and furious, while the viands disappeared with a rapidity that did not speak well for State College boarding houses. When dessert was over and the cigars and coffee were brought out, Mr. Abram D. Belt, the toastmaster, arose and in a neat speech opened the intellectual part of the feast.

Mr. W. B. Waite responded to the first toast, Ex. '94—"Absent in Body but Present in Spirit." He alluded touchingly to those who have from time to time dropped from the class, and was followed by Mr. Wm. Banks, who responded to D. C. Jackson's Dynamo Construction—"Get Thee Behind Me Satan." The speech was humerous and well appreciated, as was the one that followed by Mr. Fred Barndollar on The Dear Faculty—"Not Dead, but Sleeping."

This was followed by a witty toast to "Our Ladies, Past and Present:"

"I Pass their Form and Every Charming Grace," by Mr. E B. Kirk, and Mr W M. Dickinson gave the assemblage another treat in Thermodyanmics, ' pv Rt D——n that Equation." The toasts were ended by Mr. W. A. Silliman.

Past, Present, and Future. "A Noble Gang; all History Centers in their Story, and the Devil Himself cannot Foretell their Future."

Short impromptu toasts followed, and after the witching hour of midnight, the banquet ended amid mirth and jollity. The committee were J. E. Quigley, F. K. Mattern, P. B. Breneman. The class wish to express their thanks to Proprietor Schuyler and Mr. Geo. Hagaer, Jr., for their best of attentions.

—The Tyrone iron works, which have been closed down for several weeks, will resume operations this week. This is cheering news both to employes of the company and the people of the community, as the industrial activity tells upon the prosperity of the town. Superintendent H. L. Sholly is arranging for the resumption of work so that on Monday night the rolling mill will be in operation rolling blooms, and on Tuesday all departments of the works, rolling mill and forge, will be running again at full capacity.

There are some men in Bellefonte, even in the higher walks of life, who have yet to learn the graciousness of giving a decent answer to a civil question. Such people are fit teachers for the rank and file of any community.
